great summer.

J. Randi

Art ——

So far I've known you for 3 years, and I keep asking my self why? why haven't I killed my self for having such a weirdo for a friend. I answer myself because we eat at the same place. To bad you're a San Morino person (I'll refer to as a 91108) and a yell leader at the same time. Does that make you double conceited or twice as snotty.

Now let me get serious there was this farmer who had a daughter, ... (Ha, Ha, Ha).

It's been great having a snob for a friend

See Ya' Later

ALVERNIAN 1981

St. Francis High School
La Canada Flintridge

As students we readily complain about the pace of the school day. It seems to proceed at the proverbial snail's pace. Yet it is curious how Seniors view their last year as a flurry of events and sights, especially as graduation approaches. Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors take heart. Your year will arrive faster than you would imagine.

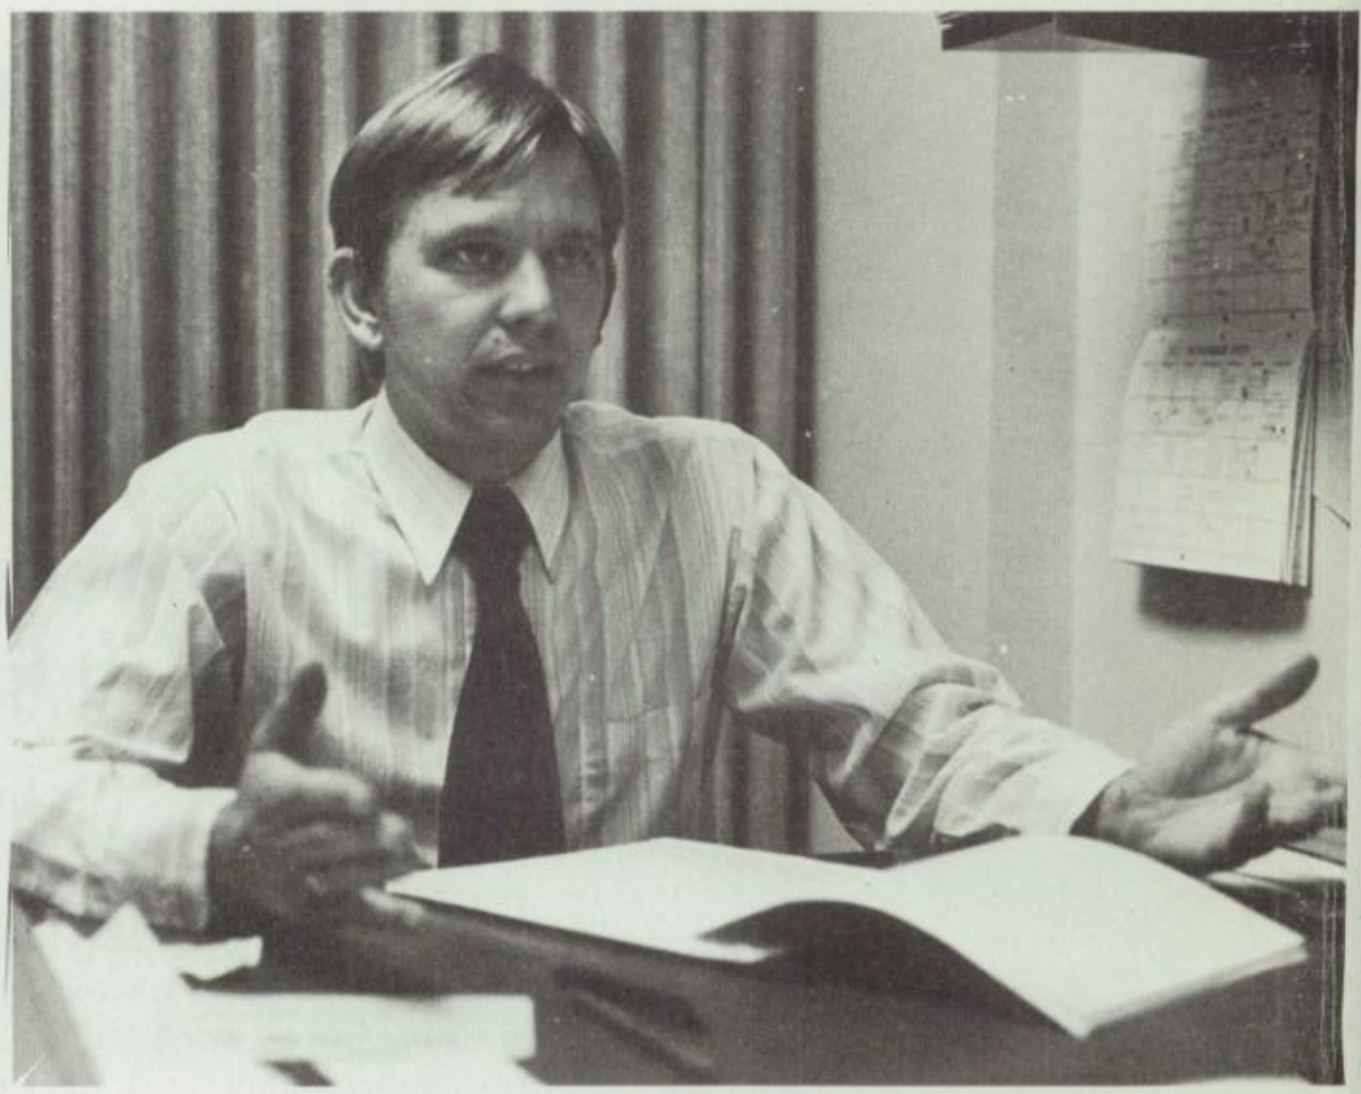
A yearbook attempts what may appear impossible; to not only capture, but to keep alive days we have lived. Like the day's many fleeting moments, our times of relaxation, our times of reflection and our times of triumph escape the grasp of our memory. A yearbook, hopefully this yearbook, assists us as today's sunrise becomes tonight's dusk. Take a close and careful look, for the times herein will never return.

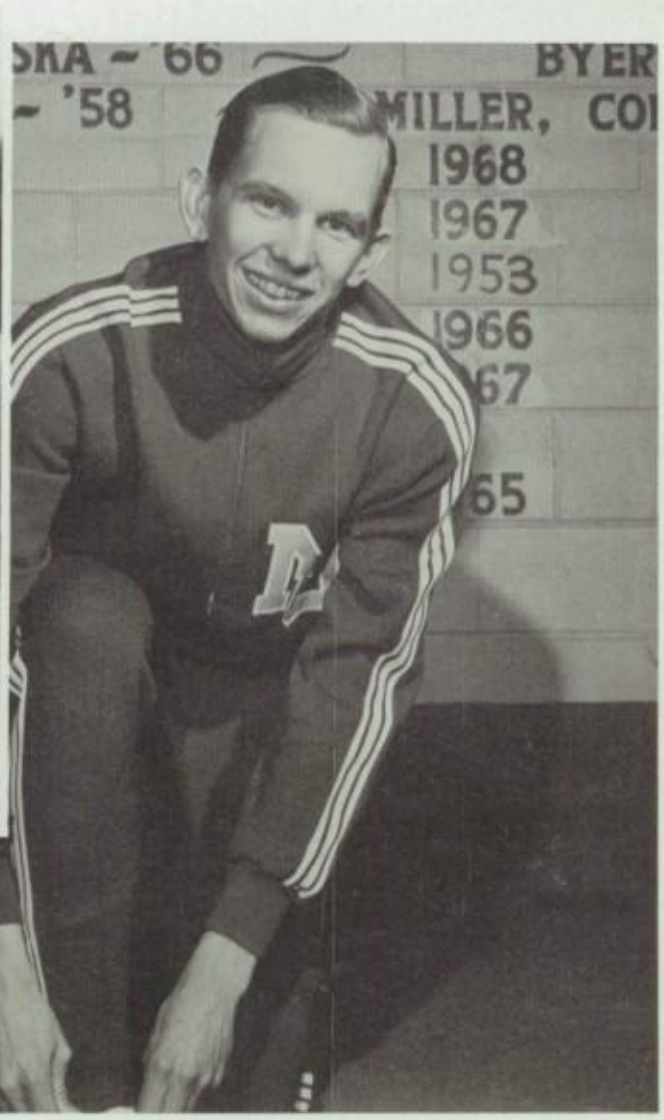
. . . To a Growing Memory

Although his heart pounded in his ears, he measured his pace and secured his footing to deliver at Athens the message of victory. Overcoming physical and emotional stress, the first marathon man arrived, announced his message and expired. But the memory of this distance runner has been recorded permanently in the annals of mankind. He had come to announce the transition from war to peace. In so doing, he had set a trend; the sacrifice of one's life for the wellbeing of others.

We, the staff of Alvernian 1981, wish to pay tribute to another distance runner, who this year completes a decade of service to Saint Francis High School. We wish to commend this man, who, as Dean of Students, has consistently demonstrated fairness and professionalism. Under his supervision, Saint Francis' varsity cross-country teams have outdistanced their competition, bringing home this year the Del Rey League crown. A trend maker by his efforts, he has developed and added to the curriculum an advanced placement course in United States History.

To dedicate a book is to express one's gratitude. Such a gesture can never repay the debt. Moreover, history has afforded us a lesson in the Athenian athlete; gratitude comes too often delayed. Therefore, it seems only just to dedicate the 1981 Alvernian to Mr. Peter Brang, with the hope that our appreciation will be felt and that he will be encouraged to continue his devotion to our Alma Mater.





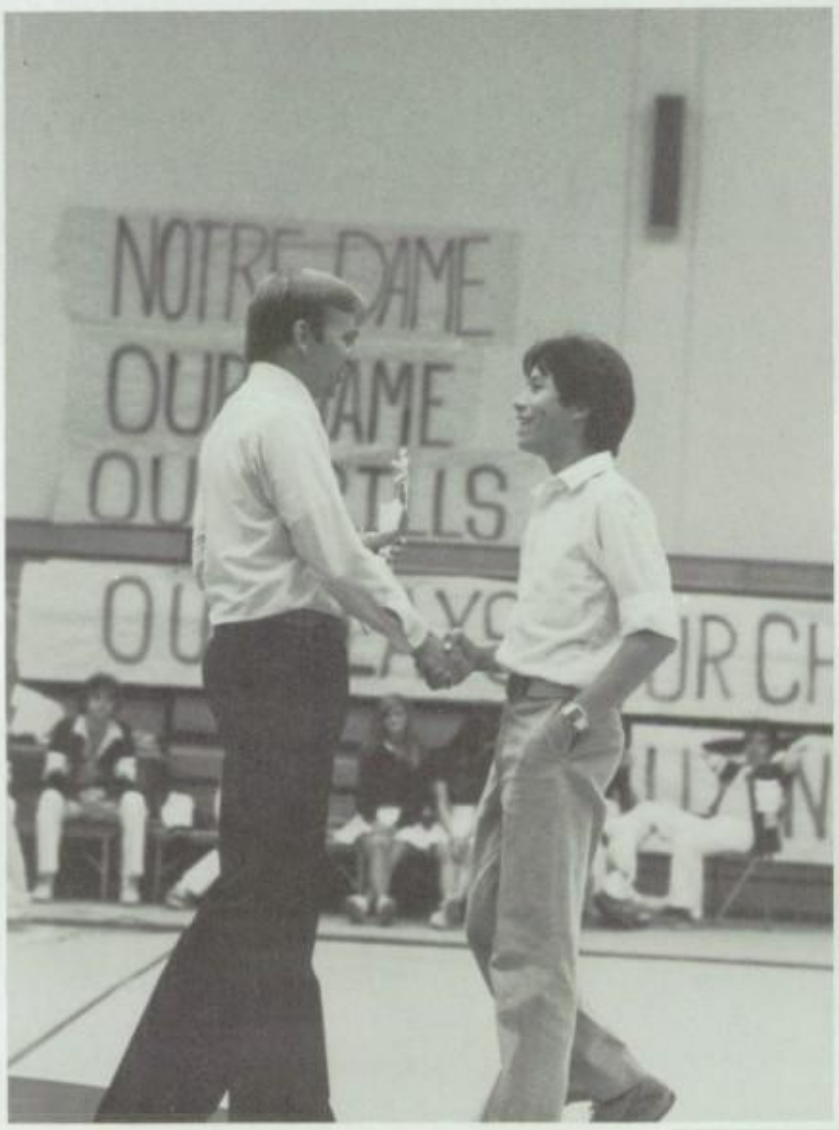
VASILE CUI

There Is a Season for Everything; a Time for Every Occupation Under the Heaven

Ecclesiastes 3:1

Each morning sees the sun rise. Each evening sees the sun set. We readily accept these facts without question. But how often have we realized that our existence depends upon the sun? Thanks to the sun's voyage of constant transition, earth supports many forms; all affected in different fashions by the sun's rays. Consider plant life. Plants flourish in sunshine, whereas they perish in darkness. We cannot conceive of human existence without warmth or illumination. The sun guides us by its daily course, for we orient our direction by its journey. The role of physical life-giver must be fulfilled, for our planet to continue its trek, and consequently we perceive this vital necessity in the sun's westward progression.

We, the students at Saint Francis, are like the sun. Whether we realize it or not, our lives change constantly. Without such transitions our future hopes dim. As varying intensities of sunlight affect the growth of plants, so do life's constant transitions affect us all as adults, to find the destiny at the end of life's path.



As we proceed, certain trends draw our attention. We assume a role and play it out to see if it suits us. Few, if any, ever find a trend that satisfies them. Thus can we explain why most people live in a state of constant transition, never finding their ultimate destination on earth. All of us undergo this venturing from one stage to the next, but do we pause to evaluate the changes ongoing in us at this moment, or the bearing they will hold in our future?

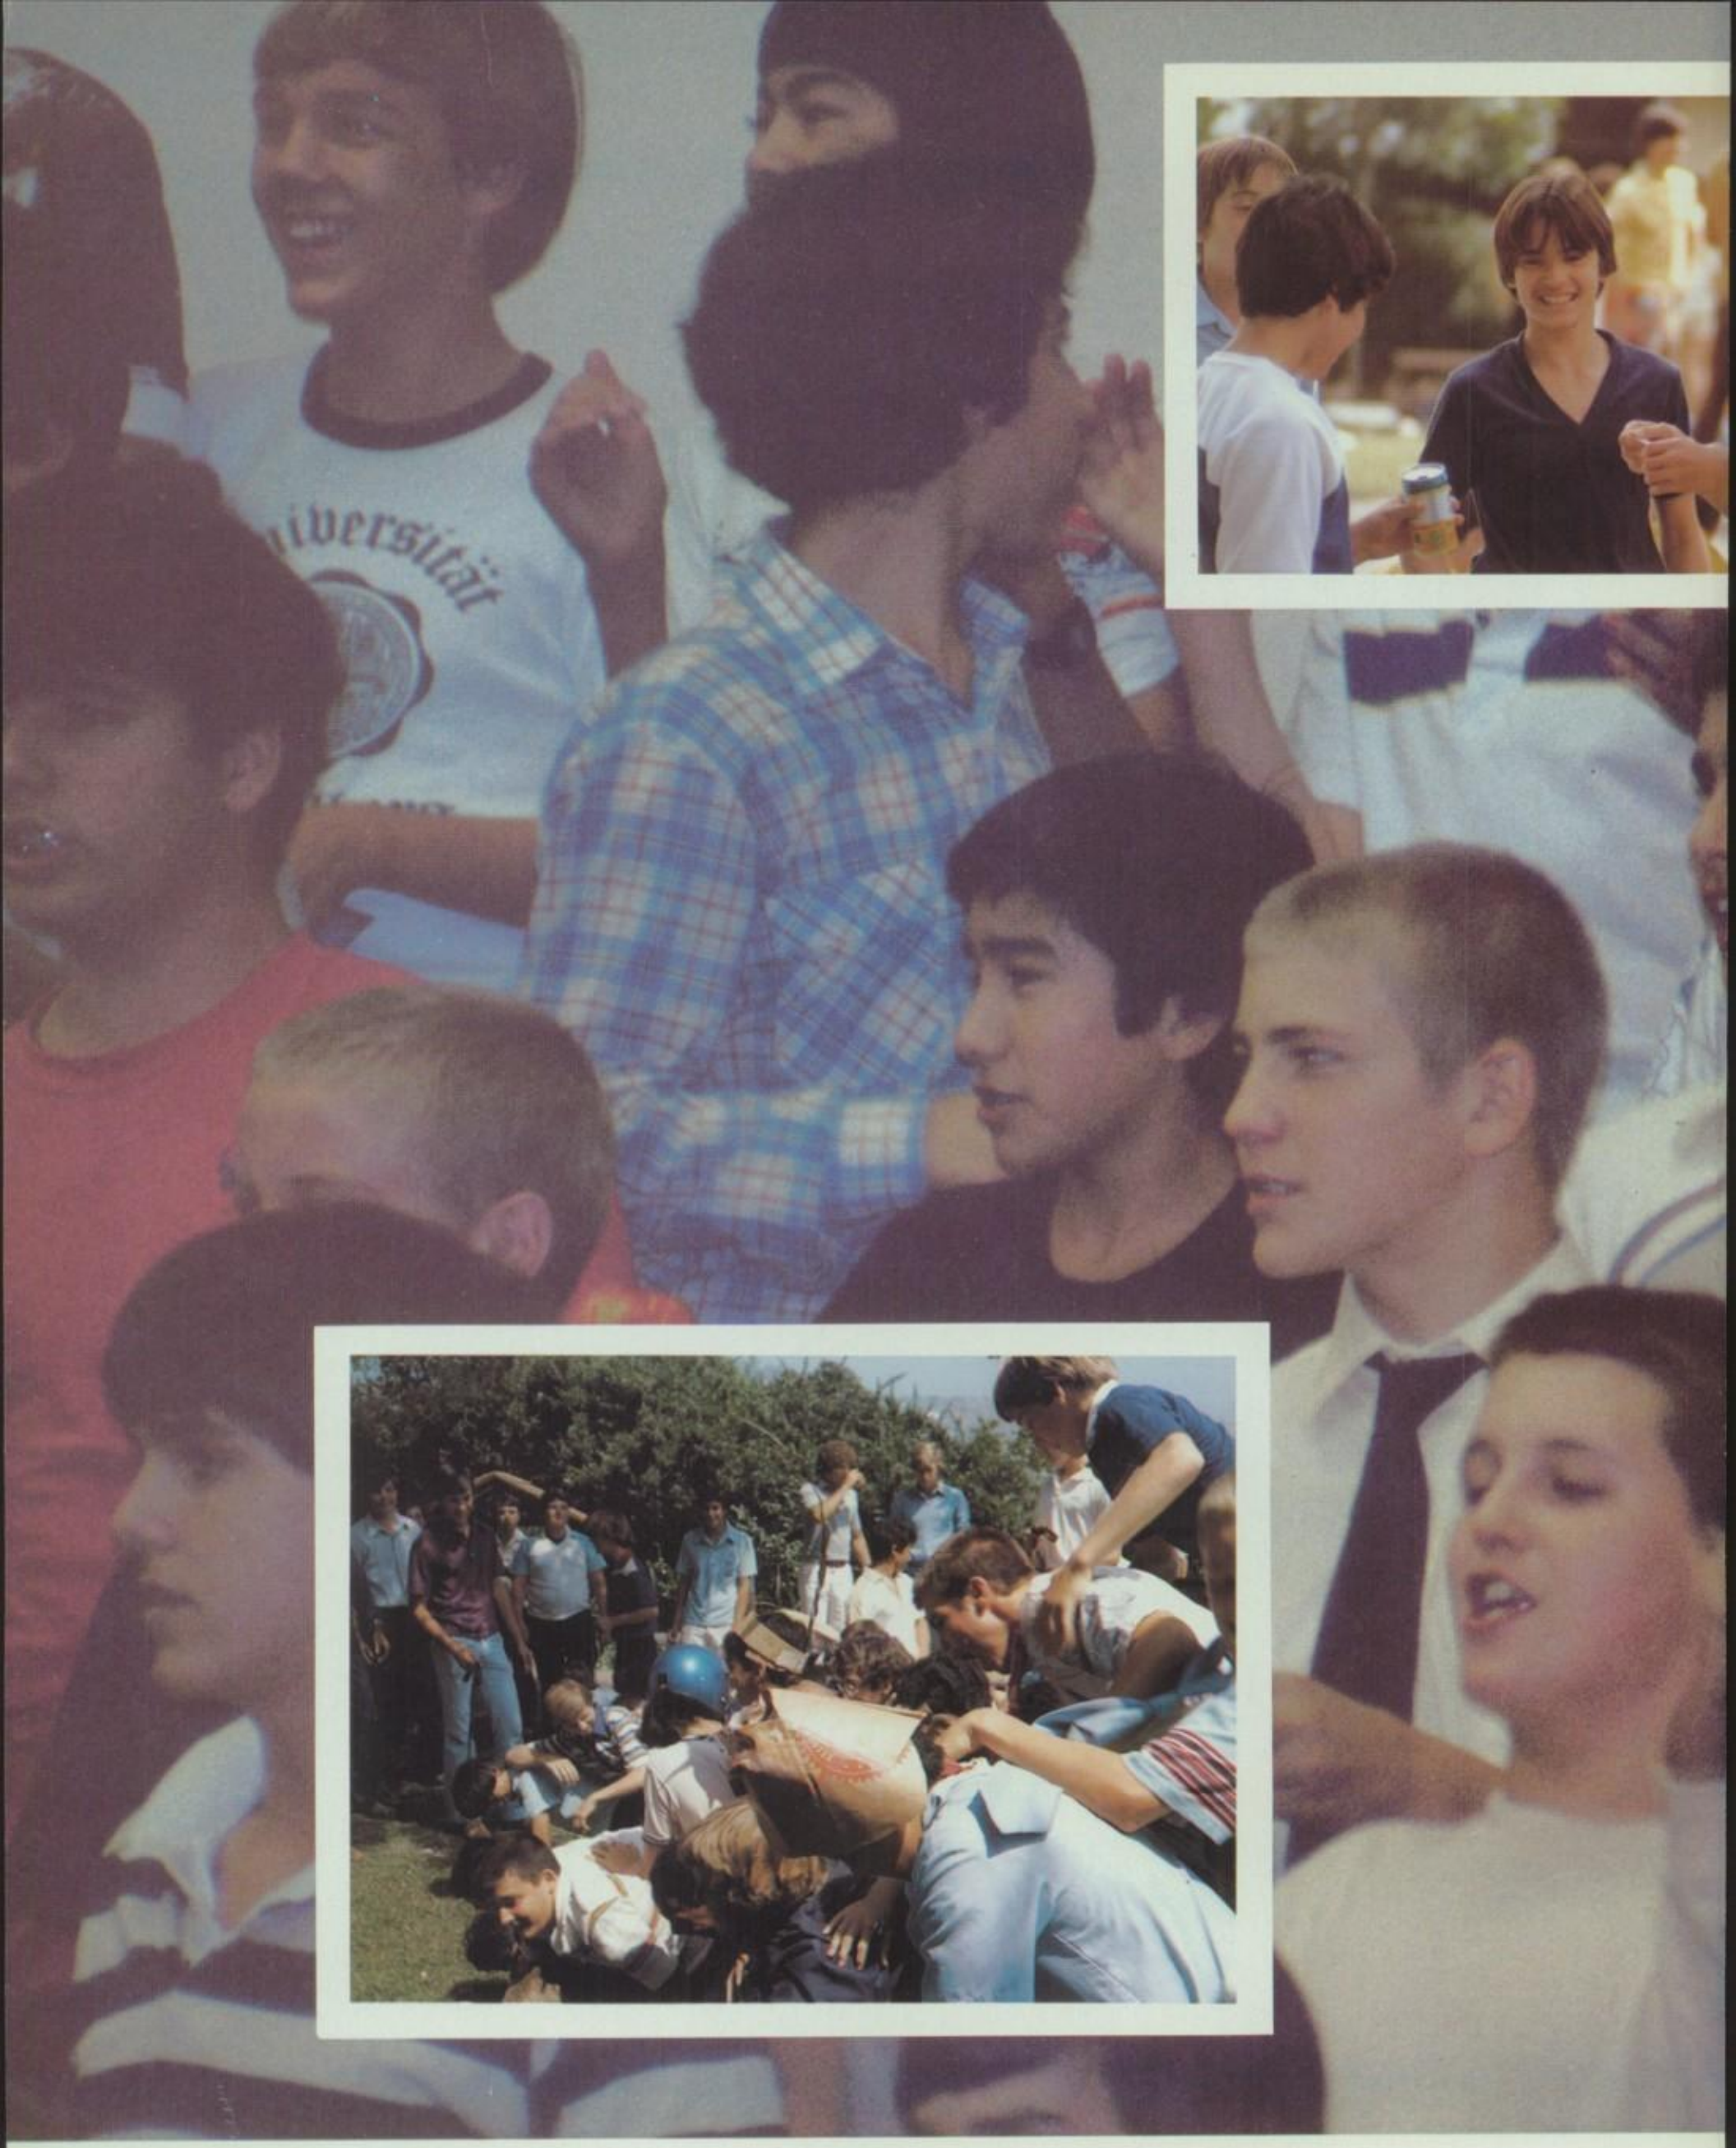
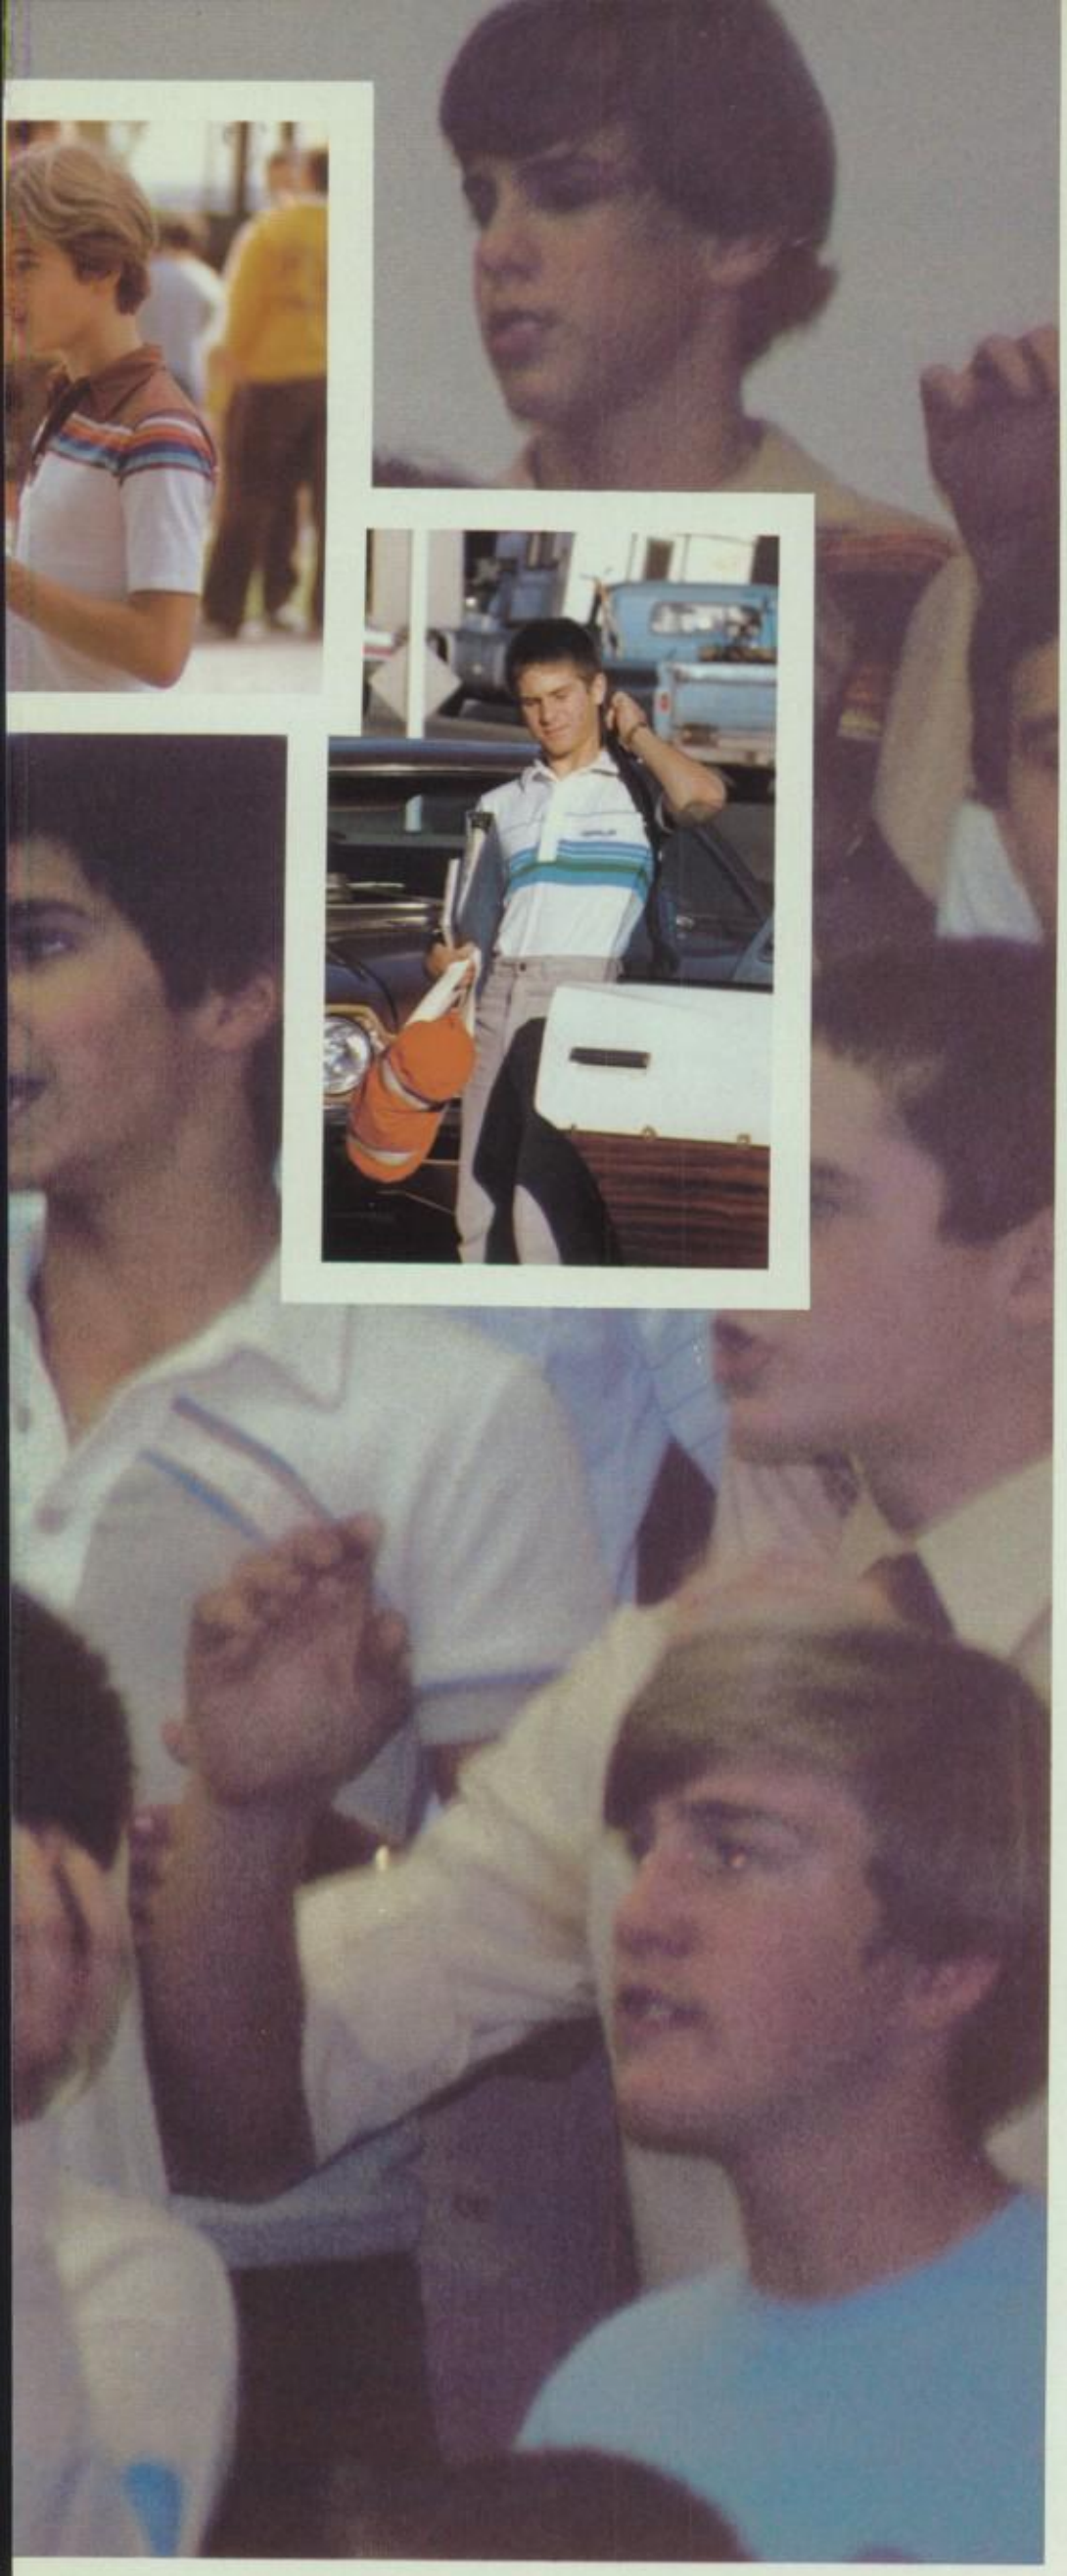
The transitions we encounter at Saint Francis often go unnoticed. The seniors have not remained the freshman they once were. Yet they cannot say how or when change occurred. Only after a transition's completion, can they become fully aware of the differences. Only then can the total picture be focused and recognized. As light results by the sun's appearance, so do our future lives and personalities develop by transitions.

During our stay at Saint Francis, the transitions we make lead to trends. Last year's sophomore, for instance, assumes the trend of a "rowdy" junior. Society expects us to play these roles, and so we do. The trends we undergo, are neither good nor bad; to the contrary, they are necessary to our lives. To reach our goals, we must experience and explore them, else we mutilate our personalities.

These trends and transitions lead to growth in our lives. They encompass both joy and sadness. Although our personal changes appear insignificant to the world, they are vital to our own. A year in our lifetime may be but a speck in Time; however, we shall not forget this year's Life. A yearbook secures forever the trends and transitions activiated during this small particle of our lives. Their appearance may deceive us now. They assume a significance only with the passage of time, as do the rising and the setting of the sun to the one who has regained his sight.



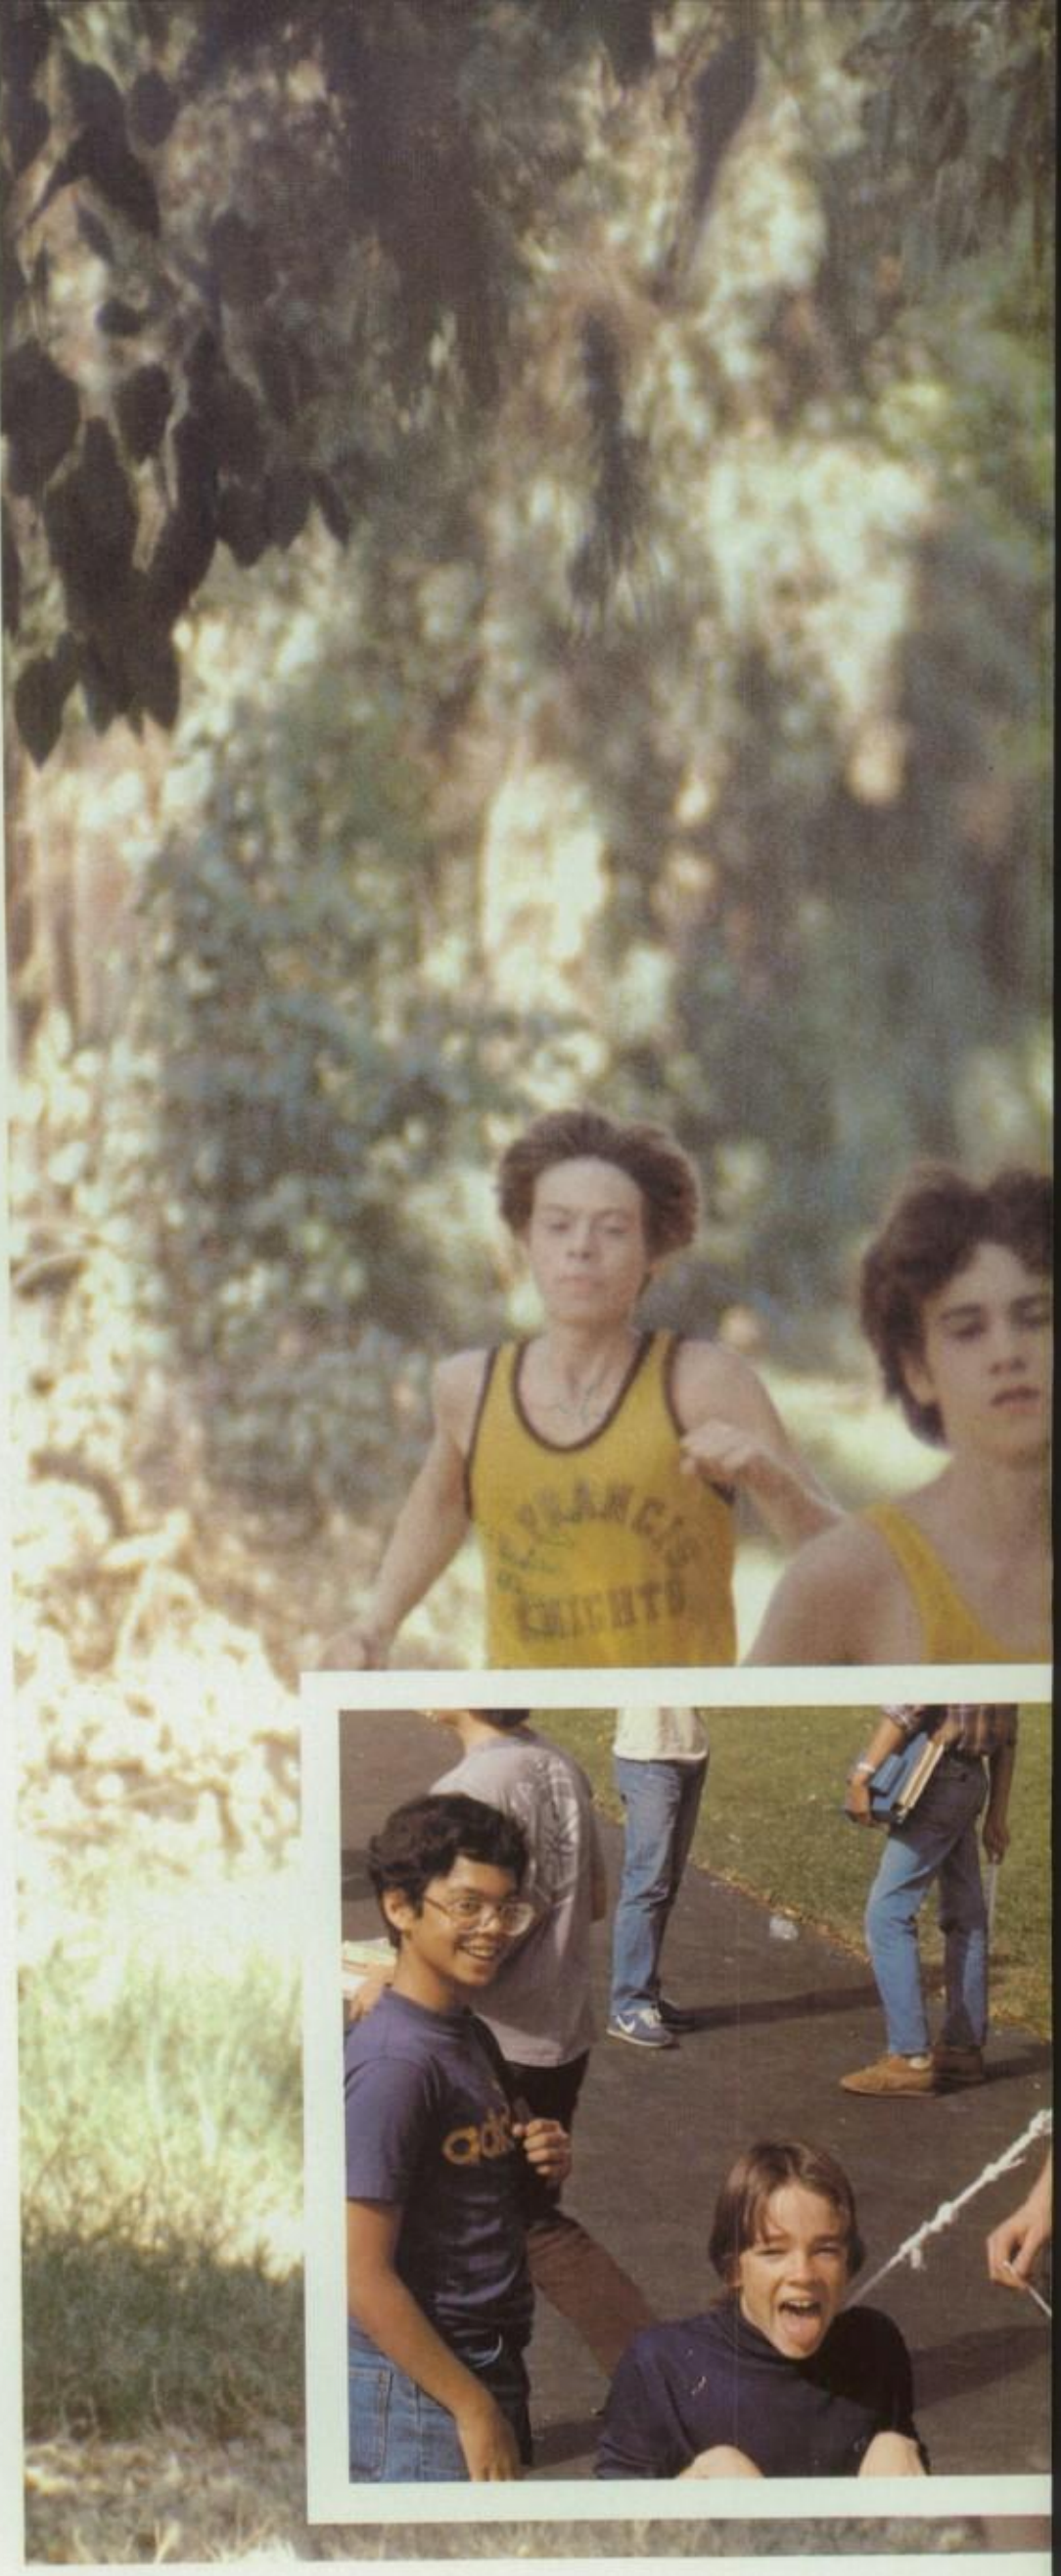


FRESHMEN . . .
A Time to Begin

In their first few days at Saint Francis, they encounter initiation, with the quick realization that they are placed at the bottom of the pile. An increased class size, new friends, an all male student body . . . transitions which demand quick adaptation. They are placed in a new environment, and gradually take in many first time experiences. But with their newness also comes an innocence that distinctly characterizes them. It may be cheering loudest at the rallies or trying to figure out the snack machines for the first time. They are embarking on a new journey. These are the Freshmen.

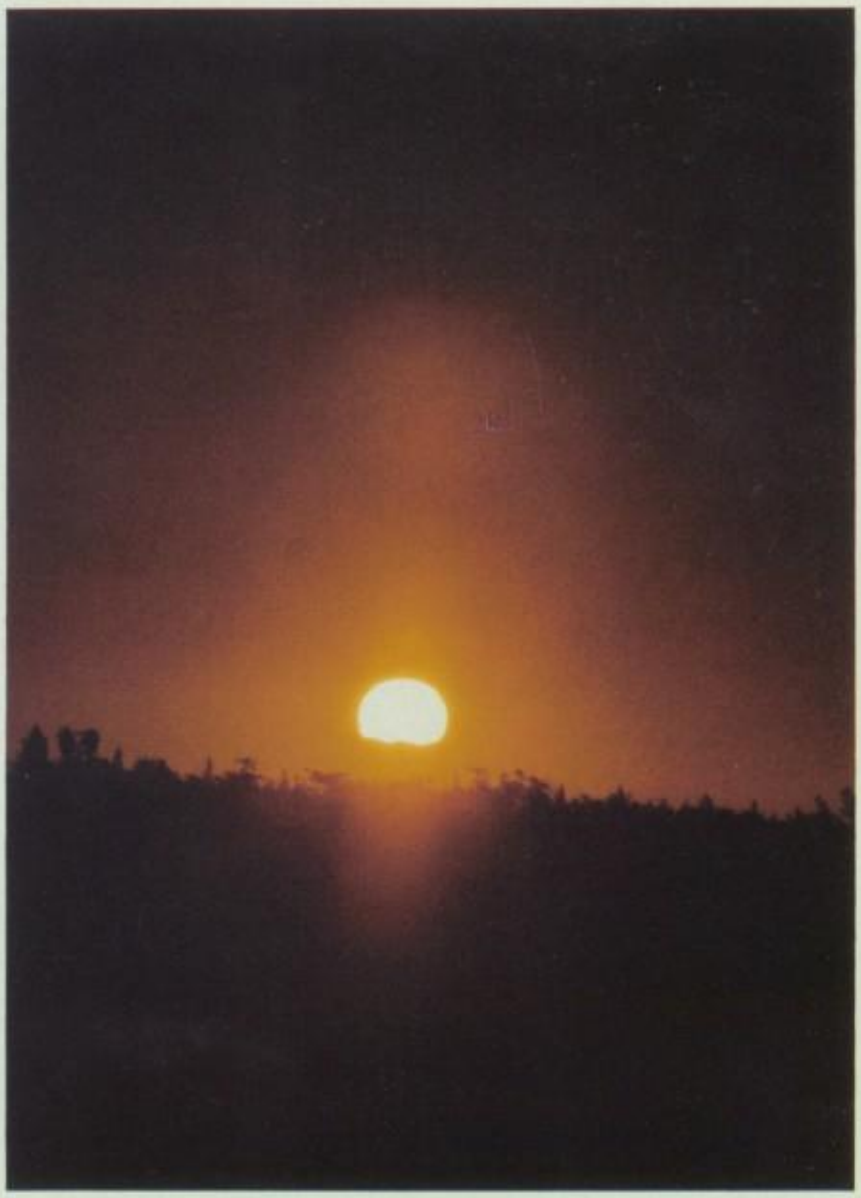
SOPHOMORES . . .
A Time to Search

Caught in the middle, they are as difficult to understand as their class name; Sophomore, a "wise fool." Too old to act like freshmen, yet not old enough be considered upperclassmen, they seek the respect of the student body. Their "non-freshmen" status often turns them into bullies. Though socially limited, many find freedom in a new driver's license. Paradoxical, in-betweeners, men in a nowhere land, they spend this year in quest for identity. These are the Sophomores.



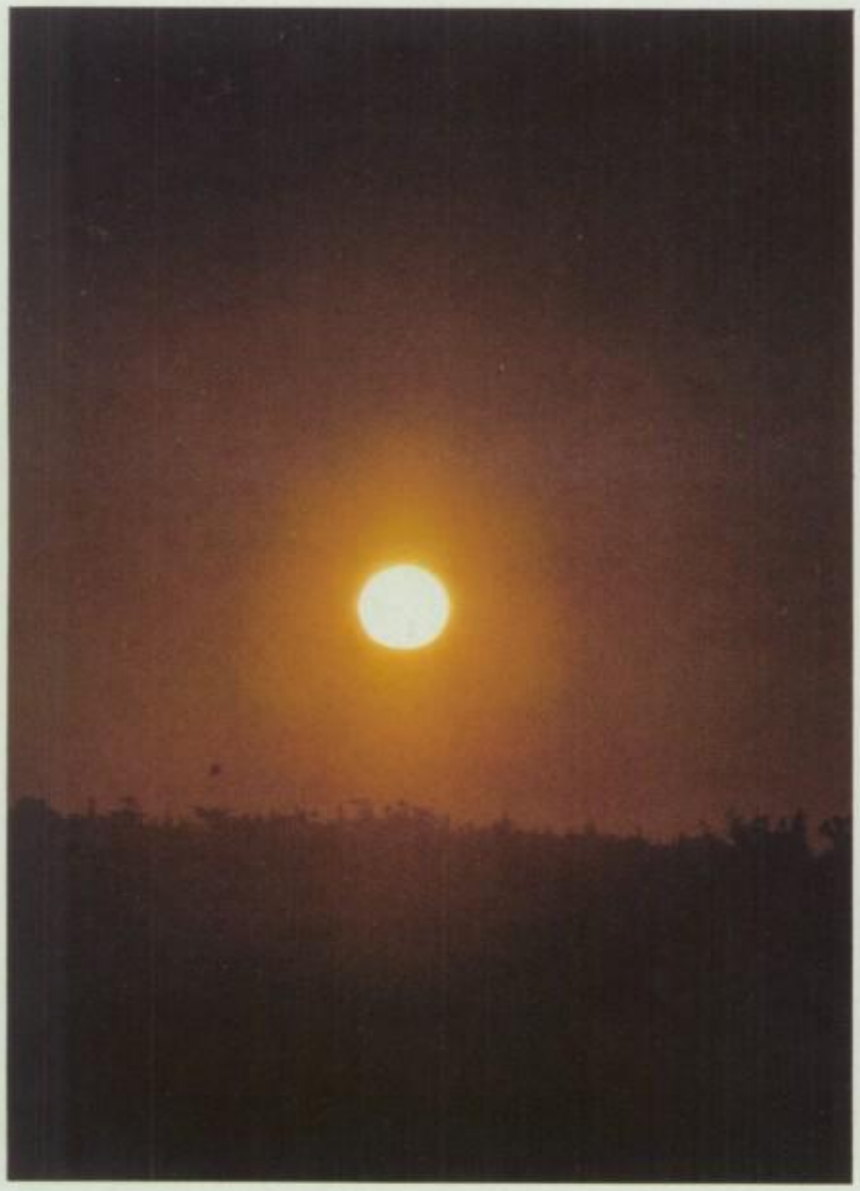
JUNIORS . . .
A Time to Challenge

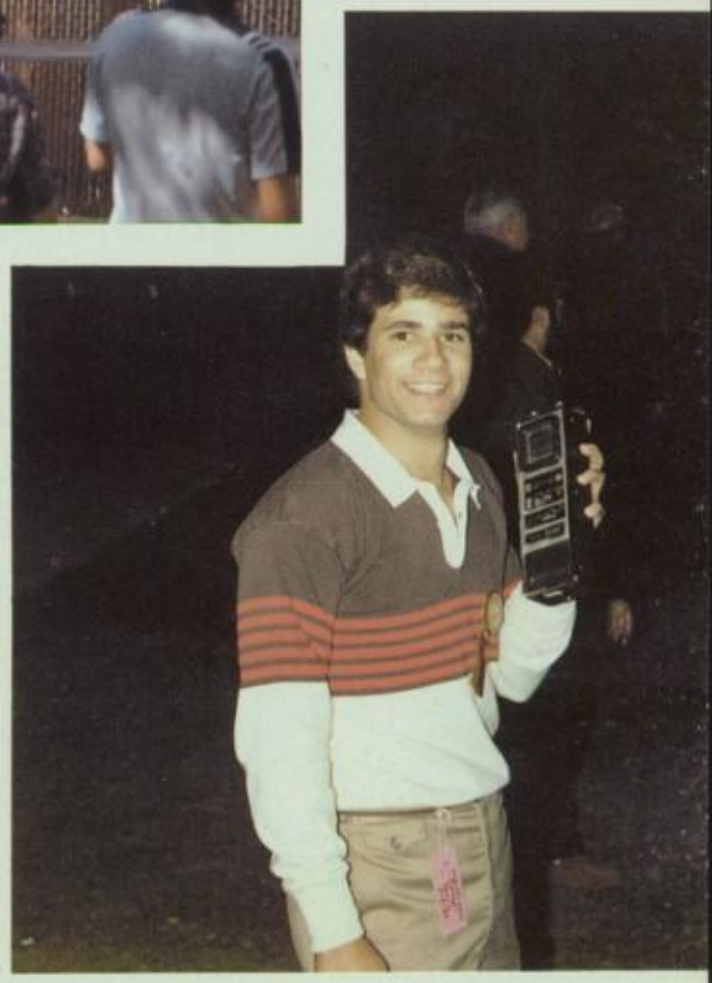
The campus rowdies, they become well acquainted with Mr. Brang. They have just received "upperclassmen" status and privileges: no more seventh period, no more Speech or Fine Arts class. They are now the proud owners of a lawn. Food fights, wrestling matches and "kicking back" on the lawn become luncthime activities. An improved social life sees parties as a planned part of the weekend. They question the Administration's authority as well as the Senior's. They use and abuse their power. Rebels and radicals, these are the Juniors.

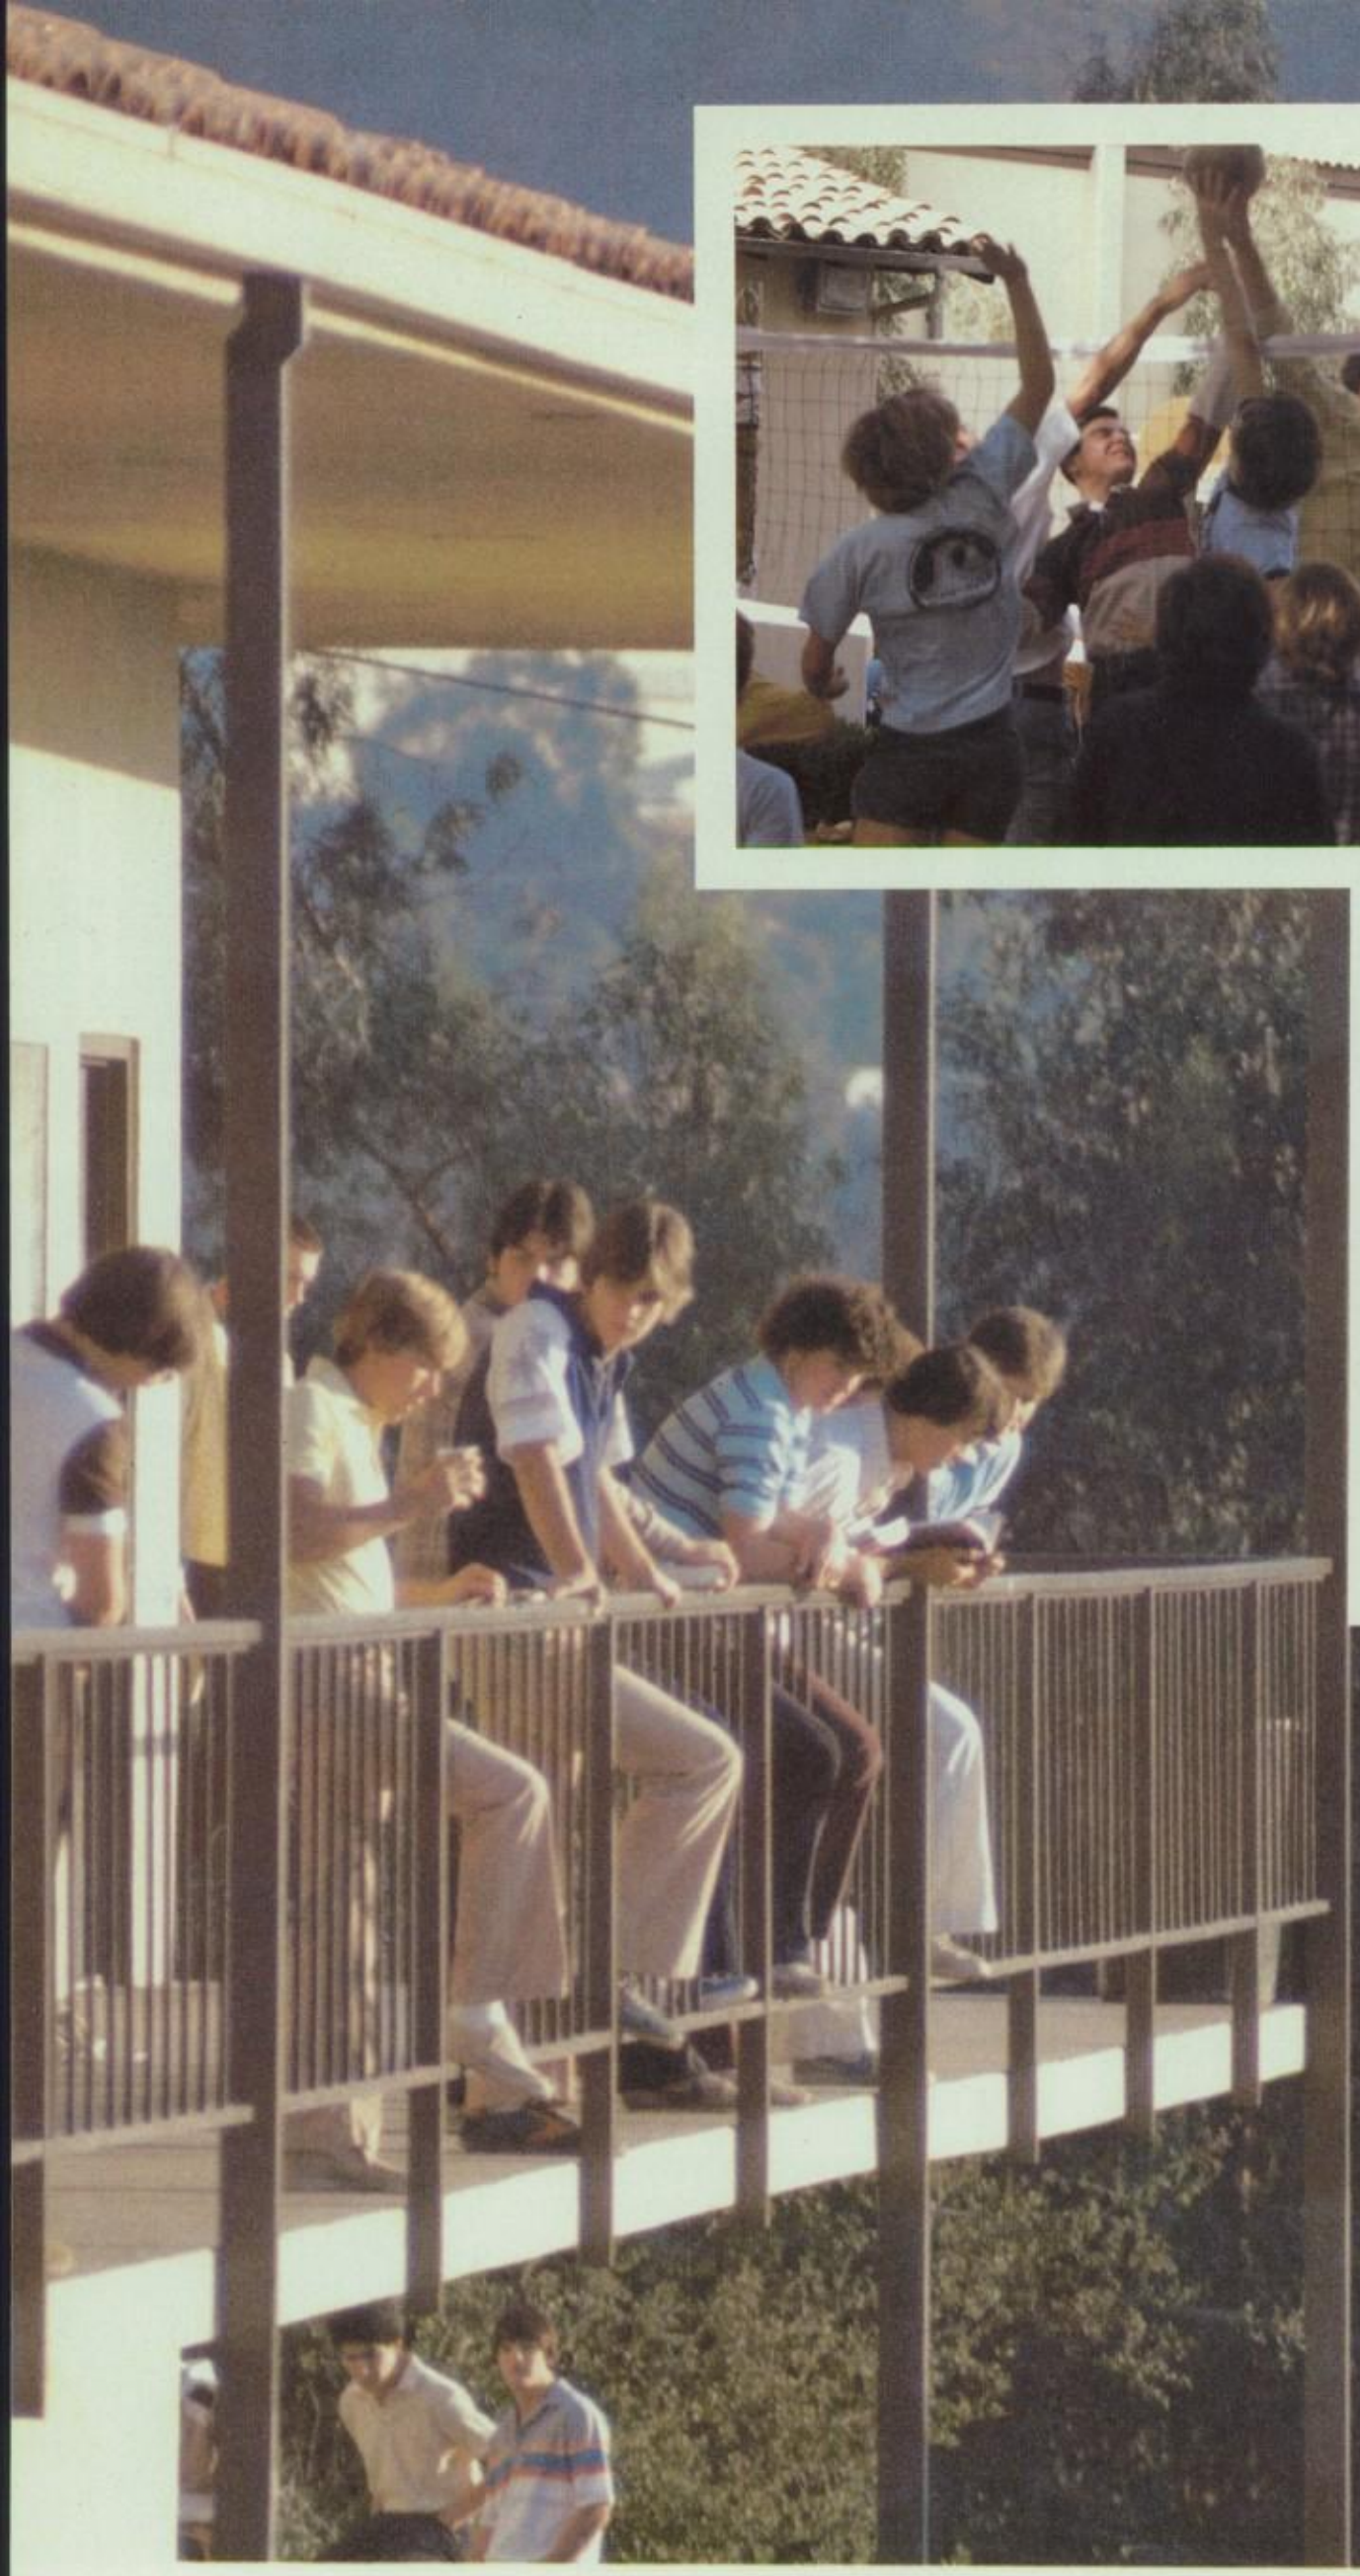


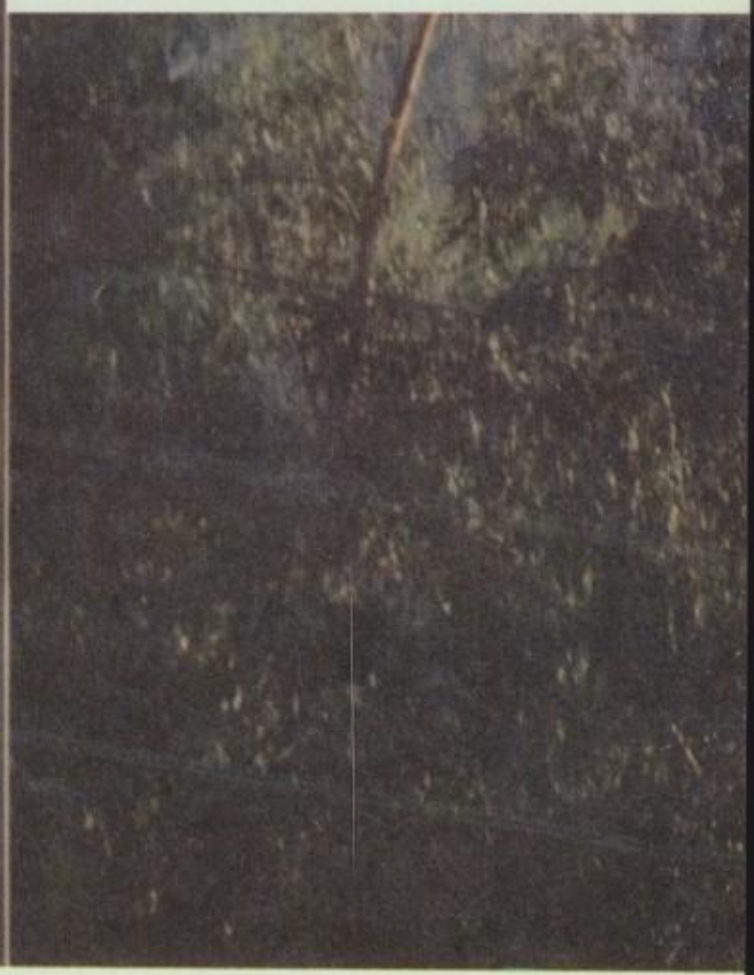
SENIORS . . .
A Time to Lead

The "chairman of the board," they determine the year's pace and spirit. They attain new privileges and status, but only after three long years of struggle. They begin to see things in a different light. Teachers, once the "enemy" can now be considered friends. The Seniors understand the school and have lost Freshmen year anxieties. They experience a new class pride; something they lacked as Juniors. They no longer question. They reason. Maturity, growth, sophistication and character are traits that describe them well. They realize this is, for better or worse, their last year at Saint Francis. The real world is about to engulf them. No longer children, these are the Seniors.









The Knights Crown Their Queen

The promise of victory, swirls of fireworks and the ceremonial color guard brought a feeling of exuberance and fired up the crowd, gathered for the 1980 Homecoming game. Only the selection of Homecoming Queen remained to assure the successful making of a memorable evening.

During the traditional halftime ceremonies, the six princesses, last year's queen, Lori Venti, and their senior escorts were chauffered to the coronation dais. All Saint Francis cheerleaders and yell leaders formed a guard of honor.

Fireworks illuminated the sky as the name of this year's Homecoming Queen, Nancy Drees, was announced. A senior from Sacred Heart Flintridge, Queen Nancy received congratulations from her court, as spectators applauded their approval. A decisive victory over Crespi, followed by the Homecoming Dance crowned the evening festivities.

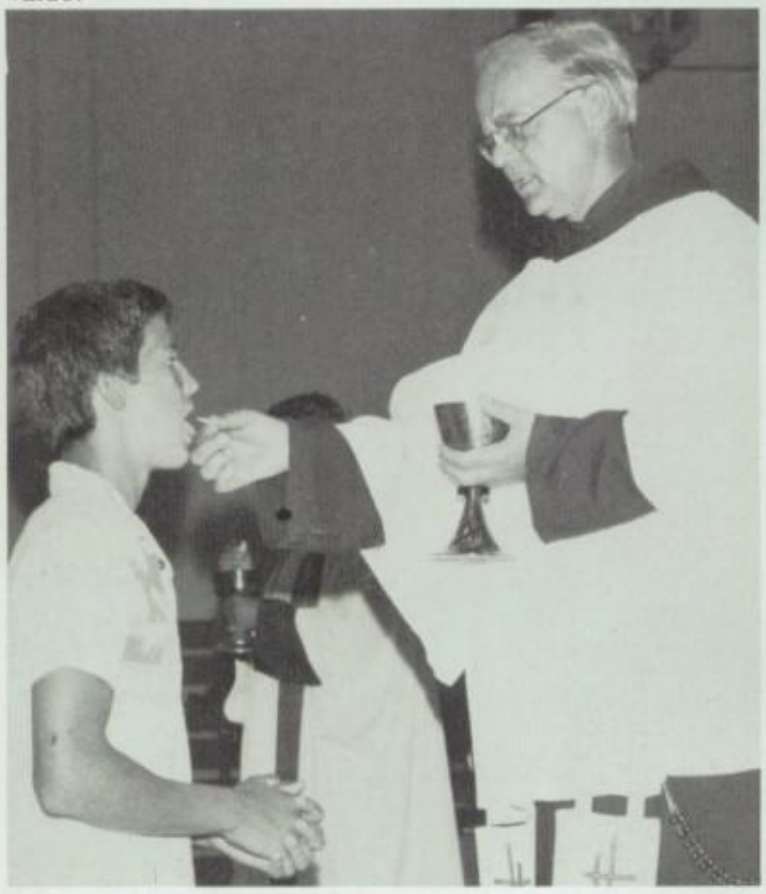
TRANSITIONS '80-'81

Years are measurements of time, so mathematicians theorize. Yet, what are years if the life-long friendships, romances, careers and achievements remain unconsidered? What worth have years that ignore growth and transitions? What meaning have years, that do not value the enjoyment one has felt? The treasures of this year will make us perhaps consider it a special one, or the most enjoyable one spent in high school. But memories need to be preserved against time, and so we offer you this pictoral year begun. Not time, but you alone, should determine its life, its value.



Hi Art,
Well Summer is only 5 days away now and Mona & Tues. are going to be a heavy party. If you think that you are going to have a dull time around the 4th of July I'm going to be having a party around then. (there's no way you'll be bored). Hope to see ya then. Later.
Love Always

Summer's End Brings First Daze of Class

The Meadow Grove pedestrian crosswalk (1), the familiar brown bag, the heavy box of books, the clang of lockers, the frustrations of jammed locker combinations (2) issued in the 1980-1981 school year at Saint Francis. On the way up on S.F.'s maze of staircases, a bewildered Freshman asks an upperclassman, "Do you know where room 301 or is it room 103 is?" (3) A brisk "Good Morning, Gentlemen!" apparently was insufficient for Fr. Joseph to impress upon his Ethics IV students that the time had come to put writing stick in hand and mind in gear. Visual aides seemed to have made his message crystal clear (4). (Who would dare disagree?) Back to books maybe the order of the day, but Senior Karl Wechsler probably would trade the figures in his calculus book for those on California's beaches. (5) Yet, a computer science course, introduced into the curriculum this year by Mr. Jim O'Connor, appears to have kept Senior Mike Odell's concentration and hands in action. (6)

ASB Fights Apathy

With a philosophy of effectiveness through organization, this year's Student Council fought student apathy and reactivated student involvement. Under the guidance, of Mr. Drew Sorenson, the A.S.B. leaders enjoyed the invaluable suggestions of S.F.'s first full-time advisor. Meetings were conducted with parliamentarian procedure, assuring all concerned participants an opportunity to express their views. The officers, by assuming Homecoming responsibilities this year, encouraged Freshmen and Sophomores, as well as Juniors and Seniors, to participate in the preparations. A responsiveness to general needs was demonstrated, as financial support to several campus organizations was allocated, A Dance Committee, designed to support all classes and clubs sponsoring dances, underscored the student council's efforts to promote succesful social events for all S.F. Golden Knights.

Officers Lead to Student Involvement

3↑

The traditional class gift, Grad Nite, and a sought after list of Senior privileges have kept this year's class officers working. Led by Rob Wheeler, class president, were Jim Gilb, vice-president, Tim Curry, treasurer and Jeff Corral, secretary. The officers were active even before the first week of school, preparing the Annual Initiation tom-foolery, a rowdy Spirit and Leadership day, and establishing a good rapport with the school administration.

Painting Up Spirit

Devoting their time to the school, the members of the newly-developed Poster Committee spent their afternoons promoting school spirit by directing the students' thoughts toward upcoming sports events. Bringing out paint and brush, these unhailed artists competed with each other to think up new and better ways to liven up the campus. Seeking no personal glory, these energetic pupils wished only the satisfaction of serving their student body. This organization went beyond making posters. It sought to turn an old tradition into a new enthusiasm.

Cheerleaders Turn on SF

With new routines, the Varsity Yell Leaders and Cheerleaders worked to arouse the S.F. fans and fire up the team. Led by Head Yell Leader, Jeff Maloney, these two groups showed their effectiveness and dedication with the success of weekly inter-class cheering competitions, with the rooter buses for away games, and with their presence at all games.

Pep Club Does a Bang Up Job

The 1980-81 Pep Club continued the annual effort to create spirit on campus for the year's schedule of athletic events. Under the guidance of advisor, Mr. Drew Sorensen and President Ernie Sacco, this year's climax came with Homecoming and League Crown Rush Weeks. This year's group provided the familiar firework sights and sounds for Homecoming and used the Victory Bell to ring in all touchdowns.

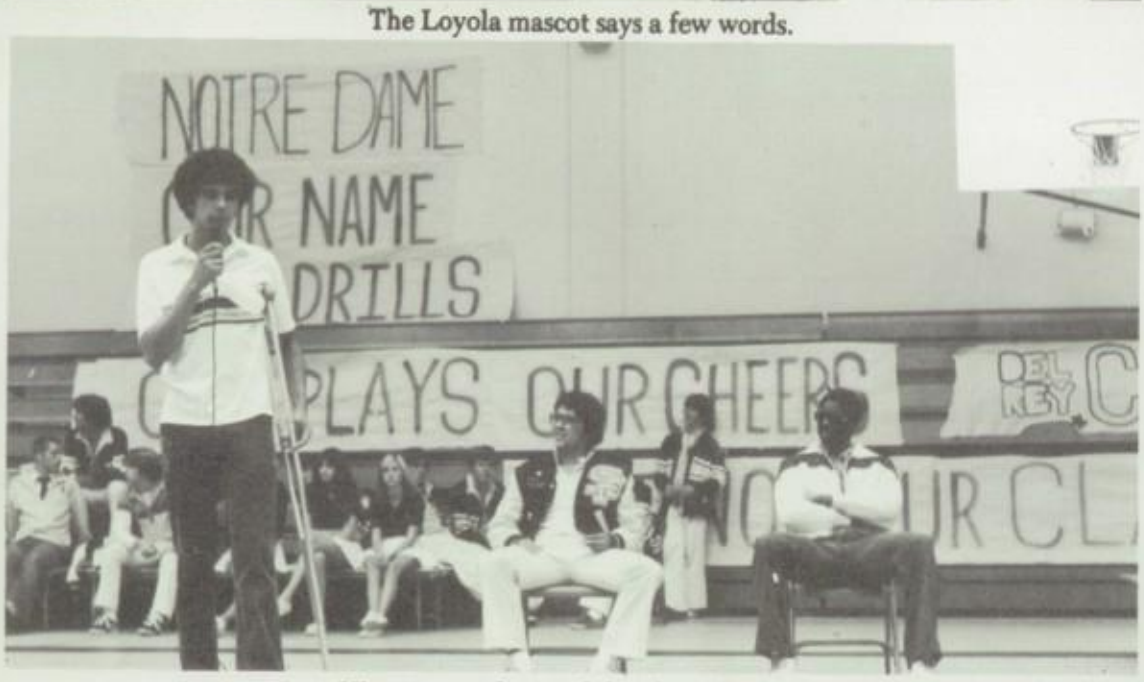
Better Lame Than Never

The skit committee found itself on its own after the departure of former moderator, Mr. Morgan. Nevertheless, the members managed to get together and put on a few skits of their own. These skits included a form of Hollywood squares, where celebrities were quizzed on the S.F. football team. Mr. Morgan even made a guest appearance during League Crown Gold Rush week, and talked about old times.

The Loyola mascot says a few words.

Thoroughly confused, the seniors show approval.



We never understood this skit either!

An unforgetable moment from S.F. history

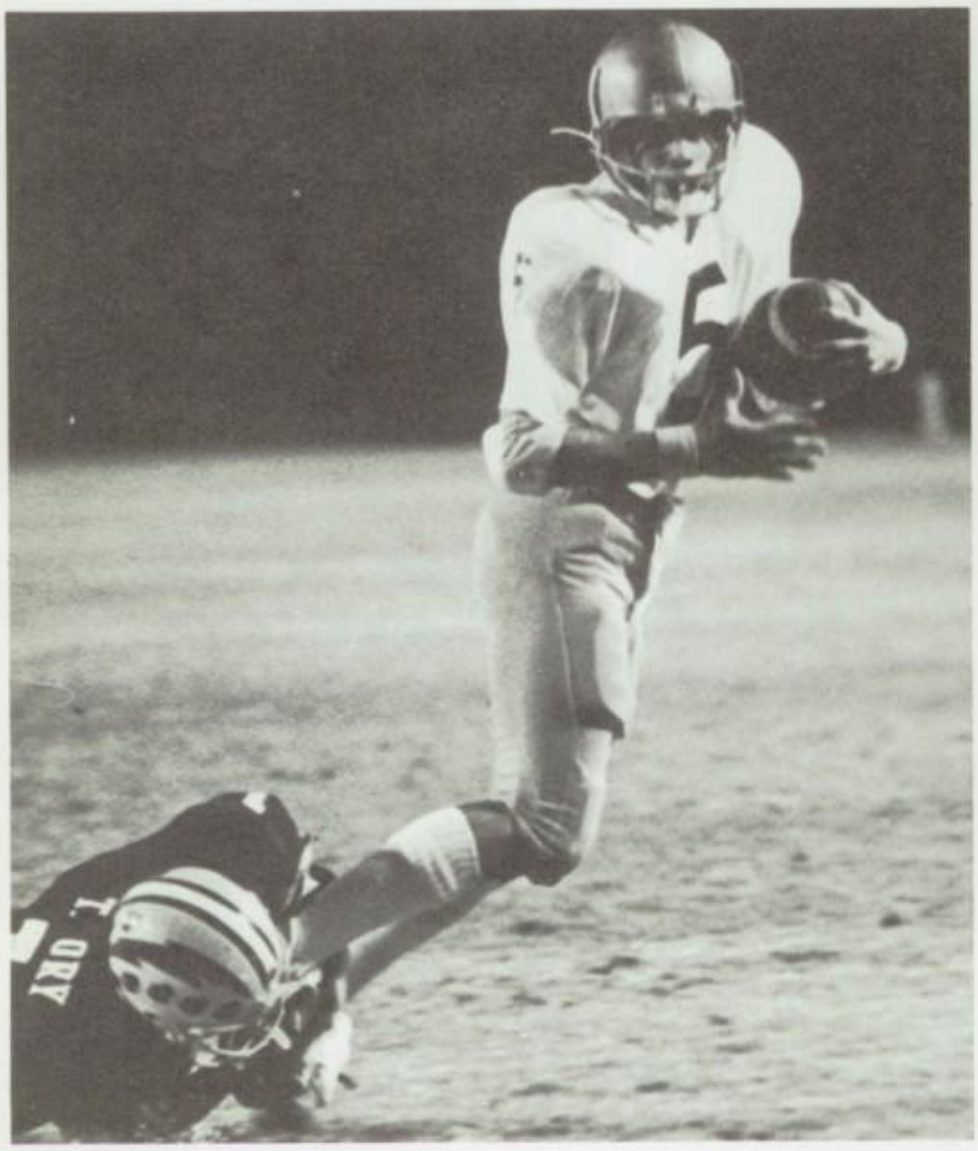
The tarzan skit never got off the ground.

Knight Offense Displays Versatility

In their pre-season opener, the Knights defeated the Burbank Bulldogs 20-8. Joe Taormina led the Knight's offensive attack with two touchdowns, one on a 75 yard run and another on a run that set up quarterback Tom Ekman's 32 yard pass to Keenan Stanley for a touchdown. Taormina ended the night with 150 yards.

In their second game, the Knights faced the highly competitive Pasadena Bulldogs. Down 13-0, at the beginning of the second half, the Knights rallied to win 15-13. Tod Short ran back an interception 67 yards to set up a Knights touchdown that clinched the game.

The Knights next faced a highly rated Long Beach Poly team.



After a tough hitting contest, the Knights were handed their first loss 33-12.

Coming off their loss to Long Beach Poly, the Knights defeated Long Beach Jordan 33-0. Mike Velasco led the rushing attack with 115 yards and a touchdown, while Tod Short chipped in with a pair of touchdowns.

In their last pre-season game, the Knights fell to a well-established Bishop Amat squad. Their only score came on a 21 yard pass from Ekman to Short in the end zone. After this, time became the Knights'enemy and the clock ran out with the Knights on the bottom, 14-6.

In their league opener, the Knights handed the Black Knights of Notre Dame a defeat, winning 15-7. Joe Taormina scored twice for the Knights, his second touchdown having been set up by a fumble recovery.

Traveling to Palmdale for a non-league confrontation with the Falcons, the Knights rolled out a 22-8 victory, with several players sidelined by injuries. Mike Renier broke the ice when he sacked the Falcons' quarterback for a safety. Velasco counted for two of the Knights' touchdowns, Taormina for the third.

Their second league game saw the rivalry of the Knights against the Loyola Cubs. Neither S.F. nor Loyola was victorious, as the game ended in a tie. Keenan Stanley caught passes from Ekman for both Knight touchdowns. Strong defense prevailed in the second half as neither team moved into the end zone. The Knights had to settle for a tied game.

Needing a victory badly to keep playoff hopes alive, the Knights defeated the Crespi Colts, 21-13, in their homecoming game. Velasco rushed for a Knight touchdown, Stanley caught another and Short returned his second interception of the evening 61 yards for a touchdown.

The last league game, to determine who would win the Del-Rey league title, pitted the Knights against the St. John Bosco Braves. A tie resulted, giving St. John Bosco the title with a 3-1 record to the Knights 2-0-2.

Young Knight Defense Proves Very Strong

Keenan Stanley and David Corral lower the boom

What many thought to be an inexperienced defense proved to be an important asset to the Golden Knights this year. The young defense played strong, guided by veterans Tod Short, Keenan Stanley, John Vasily, Matt Peters, Joe Taormina and Jim Gilb. The hard hitting line of the Knights caused many turnovers, while Short, Stanley and Taormina chipped in with two or three interceptions per game.

The Knights' defense proved strong in stopping Pasadena, shutting out Long Beach Jordan, stomping on Notre Dame, Crespi, Burbank and Palmdale and holding Loyola and St. John Bosco to a tie. When an opponent seemed to have established an important drive, the Knights caused a fumble or made a spectacular interception, crushing the drive and preserving a Golden Knight victory.

Although considered young and inexperienced, the Knights' defensive squad proved to be strong and reliable. The returning members will undoubtably be an important factor to Head Coach Brian Fogarty and the Golden Knights in upcoming seasons.

League Crown Gold Rush Week Glittered

Student Body cheers on the football team.

Outshines all others

An old friend is returned to S.F.

And Turned Out Gold

Go ahead! It won't bite!

The possibility of capturing two Del Rey League Crowns introduced a new tradition this fall; League Crown Gold Rush Week. On Tuesday, the cross-country teams swept Saint John Bosco in all three divisions, won crowns for Frosh-Sophs, J.V.s and Varsity squads, and gave a renewed impetus to bring home the football trophy.

The spirit was intense on campus during the week. The Pep Club sponsored a rally at noon every day, with special speaker Mr. Morgan appearing at the rally on Friday.

Twelve buses filled with screaming enthusiastic fans made an impressive showing against Loyola. Despite their support, S.F. could only tie Loyola. Yet, the hopes to gain the league crown remained alive.

Over 60 colleges and universities participated in Saint Francis' College Night, the largest in Southern California. This annual event, sponsored to assist students preparing for college life, gave them information concerning admission policies, financial aid, academic majors and housing. Managers are an integral part of the athletic program here at Saint Francis. They work long and hard, doing various jobs which benefit the team. These include having the responsibility of all the team equipment and insuring the proper preparation of the playing fields for games. Their excellent organization is an ingredient to the winning formula for a successful season. At times they may not be appreciated by their teammates, but the Alvernain staff would like to offer a word of thanks to these unsung heroes.

Knight Harriers Run Off With League Title

Coach Pete Brang's cross country teams enjoyed the best season in the history of Saint Francis High School. The Knight harriers swept the Del Rey League in all 3 divisions, each team finishing with a perfect 4-0 record.

The team started workouts in August to prepare for the season. In their first pre-league meet, the Knights lost to a highly regarded La Canada squad, as the team was hurt by some key injuries. Next was the San Luis Obispo Invitational, where the runners finished fifth. In the prestigious El Dorado Invitational, the team rushed to a second place finish. In the last tune up before the league season, the streaking Knights ran in the Dana Hills Invitational. They garnered a second place finish. The team was ready for the Del Rey League.

But the Del Rey League was not ready for the Golden Knights. The Knight runners' pre-league success carried over into league competition. The Gold Rushers swept in succession Notre Dame, Loyola, Crespi, and in a league showdown defeated St. John Bosco. The Knights were kin gs of the Del Rey.

After the regular season, the harriers went on to the league finals. Once again they took top honors in all three divisions. The runners also competed for individual honors and did very well. The team, led by John Capps, finished third. Fine performances were also turned in by Chris Noonan (5th), Marcus Trevino (6th), Mike Burchfield (7th), Pat Grace (10th) and Jeff Maloney (11th).

In Their Own Words

To provide an informative diversion for the students, the staff of the Knight Breeze under the moderatorship of Mr. James Bailley has dedicated many hours to produce a respectable school publication. Class related events, as well as sports, editorials and opinion columns have been emphasized. The popular Reviews, as well as the Gallery, continued to lend general reader interest to the publication.

Golden Knights Make Semifinals

S.F. vs. Bishop Amat.

After ending another successful season, the Knights continued their glorious tradition by proceeding into the C.I.F. Big Five Conference playoffs. Their opening game pitted the Knights against the mighty Bishop Amat Lancers. Out to avenge a pre-season loss to the Lancers, the Golden Knights trounced Bishop Amat, 42-28.

Keenan Stanley started the Knights off by racing sixty-five yards with a fumble recovery. After another fumble recovery by Mark Barfield, Velasco burst for twenty-seven yards and on the next play Ekman connected with Stanley for another Knight score. Stanley got his third T.D. of the night before halftime and the Knights sat on a comfortable 21-7 halftime lead.

Amat closed the gap to 21-14 early in the second half, but a twenty-nine run by Tod Short and a thrity-five yard run by Jim Gilb off an interception increased the Knights lead to 35-14. The bench added another score putting the game out of reach for the Lancers.

The Knights once again showed their skill both offensively and defensively. Going into the game as a big underdog, their pride and skill made them winners.

Tom Ekman spies an opening upfield

Defense stops yet another

S.F. vs. Fontana.

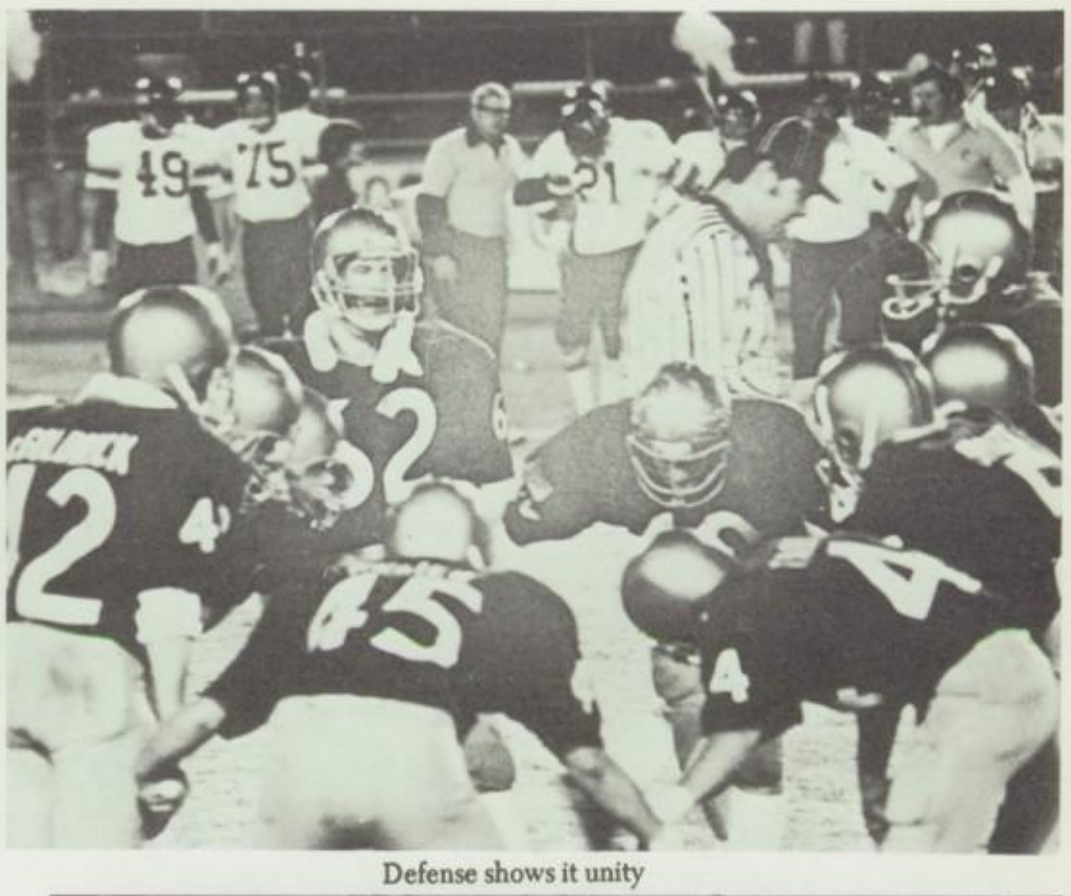
A strong defense and superb offense prevailed for a second straight week as the Knights handily defeated the Fontana Steelers 35-15.

The Golden Knights running attack led the way on a thirty-five yard run by Mike Velasco and a sixty-five yard run by Bill Chase, giving the Knights a 14-0 halftime lead. Early in the second half, Fontana scored on a costly fumble by the Knights the score at 14-7 going into the fourth quarter, the game was still up for grabs. Suddenly, the offense of the Knights came alive. Tod Short scored a forty yard T.D. off another Ekman pass. Next Joe Taormina scored a seven yard plunge and finally, an interception by Keenan Stanley set up Eric Ewing for the final score.

Geared up by their brilliant victory over Fontana, the Knights went home to prepare for their semi-final match against the top ranked Edison Chargers.

Second Straight Year in a Row

Bill Chase blocks for Joe Taormina



Defense shows it unity

S.F. vs. Edison.

Entering the semi-finals for the second straight year, the Knights travelled to Orange Coast College to face the Edison Chargers and their ex-teammate Dino Bell.

On the opening kickoff, Bill Chase ran eighty-eight yards for what proved to be the Knights' only touchdown. A very strong Charger defense stifled the Knights passing and running attack. Mistakes seemed to plague the Golden Knights when two turnovers were converted into touchdowns by Edison.

The Knights ended their season without reaching the finals, but their display on the field showed that they were worthy of much praise. Finishing the season with an 8-3-2 record, what many said was a young inexperienced team proved its pride, dignity and age in keeping up the St. Francis football tradition.

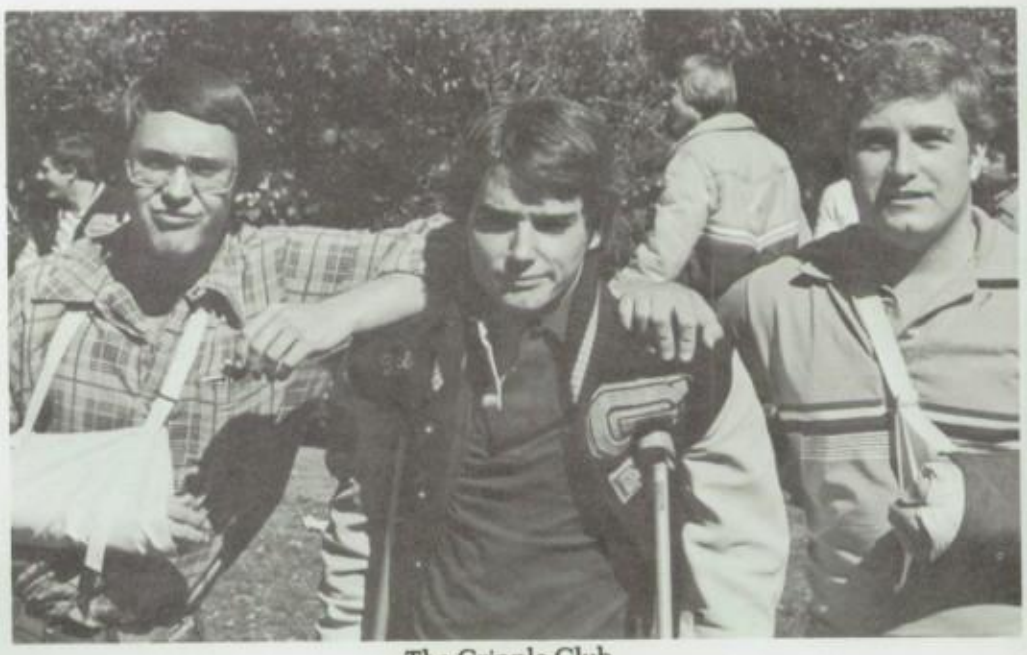
Due to this being Coach Terrazones first year as Letterman's club moderator, the club got off to a slow start. The first thing they did was pick the homecoming court, which was done rather efficiently given the time factor.

Then Basketball season rolled around and they did a fine job of security, with only one disturbance from visiting students.

But more than service, the letterman's club is tradition. It is not every single senior varsity letterman, as these days there many, but a select group determined by coaches. They are to represent the best athletes the school has to offer, this year's club being the largest in recent years.



The Cripple Club

Cross Country Makes C.I.F. Finals

1980 saw Coach Peter Brang develop one of the best cross country teams in the history of Saint Francis High School. The Knight runners swept through the Del Rey League, clinching the title in all three divisions by soundly beating strong teams such as Crespi, St. John Bosco, Loyola and Notre Dame.

For the second straight year, the Golden Knights headed for the C.I.F. prelims and finals. Forty-five teams, coming from as far north as San Luis Obispo and as far south as San Diego, came to participate in the league finals held at Saddleback Junior College in Mission Viejo.

The Knights were one of fourteen first place teams running in the third heat of the prelims. Out of these fourteen, only the top four teams advance into the finals. Finishing thrid, the Knights easily made the finals. Out of one hundred runners, Mike Burchfield finished ninth, John Capps took eleventh, Pat Grace followed at seventeenth, Chris Noonan took twentieth, Jeff Maloney, twenty-third, Marcus Trevino, twenty-fourth and Bill Hearne finished twenty-seventh. Having a team finish the prelims with all its runners in the top thirty is quite an accomplishment for which the Knights ought to be congratulated.

In the finals, the Knights finished eighth out of the twelve teams that competed. Running against the top runners in lower California the Knights deserve much respect for their efforts. The seven runners, along with Bill King and Andy LaPointe have set a high mark for future teams to follow and are recognized for their part in continuing the Saint Francis tradition in athletics.

SF Spiritual Family

Designed to preserve the religious philosophies and traditions of St. Francis, the Third Order meets as a group to discuss the teachings of St. Francis of Assisi. On days when there is no meeting, most members receive communion in the Chapel and listen to a small sermon by Fr. David.

The Third Order, under the guidance of Fr. Fintan, is composed of students from all classes. The organization's aim is to provide for any interested student the training to become a member of St. Francis' third religious order, the Lay Franciscans. Unlike the other religious clubs on campus, the Third Order concentrates on the individual's spirituality and how he can live the Christian life in which he is to take part.

Act-In . . . a Call for Christian Awareness

An extension of the Christian involvement program at St. Francis, this year's Act-In (Action-Involvement) Club was moderated by Br. Bernard and led by President Jack Tunzi. This year's group sponsored its Annual Thanksgiving Drive for families in need. A new club tradition was incepted as meetings were held following a monthly Mass, every first Monday evening. To promote an awareness of Christian duty, tutoring and special community projects, established during the school semester, helped many seniors with their Christian Service Projects for an Honors Diploma.

N.H.S. Provides a Special Leadership

Dedicated to service on campus the National Honor Society requires outstanding academic leadership and character qualities from its members. This year the club continued its reputation by serving the school and community as well as remaining one of the most active organizations on campus. Always ready with a helping hand, the club has sanded and repainted the home field bleachers, helped with booksales, college night, Freshmen Open House and the Mother's Guild Christmas Botique.

Senior Steve McLain, President and Juniors Chris Johnson, Vice-President, Luke Welsh, Secretary and David Felicia, Treasurer, proved to be a dedicated and responsible team of officers.

The high point of the chapter's activities came with the Investiture ceremonies in December, at which time new members were welcomed into the distinguished club. Senior members were given service pins.

Senior members receive a pin

Among the more recent traditions at Saint Francis, the National Honor Society's Annual Investiture Ceremony served to focus attention on the achievements of the club's members. This third annual convocation encouraged the student members to take pride in their accomplishments and to avoid complacent attitudes. In his address, entitled "Promises," Mr. Arigan reiterated a theme often heard, that promises can improve our world, when they are genuinely made and actualized.

The program, held on the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, was incorporated into the day's liturgy. Fr. Joseph, Vice-Principal, was the celebrant. Newly selected members presented by Mr. James O'Connor, received the Society's Academic Collar. Senor members were awarded a pin, bearing the society's insignia, in appreciation for faithful service during the year.

At the conclusion of Mass, the student officers were awarded special pins for their leadership. An informal reception followed and provided guests, parents and faculty an excellent opportunity to express their appreciation and pride.

In only its second year, wrestling is a very popular sport among the students at Saint Francis. Much hard work and dedication has paid dividends as the wrestlers ended another successful season. Although they were not in league competition this year, the Knights faced many tough opponents. Led by Seniors Mike Donatelli, Dave Sayad, John McGoldrick and Junior Louis Cesario, the Golden Knights challenged teams from St. John Bosco, Alemany, South Pasadena and Birmingham, giving stiff competition to better prepare the team for next year when they will enter league competition. With the able coaching of Mike Mulligan and the desire shown by the team, the Knight's quest for St. Francis' first league title should be fulfilled in the very near future. This year's squad took a big step forward in attaining that goal, and with many returning team members the wrestlers will be a formidable bunch with which to be reckoned.

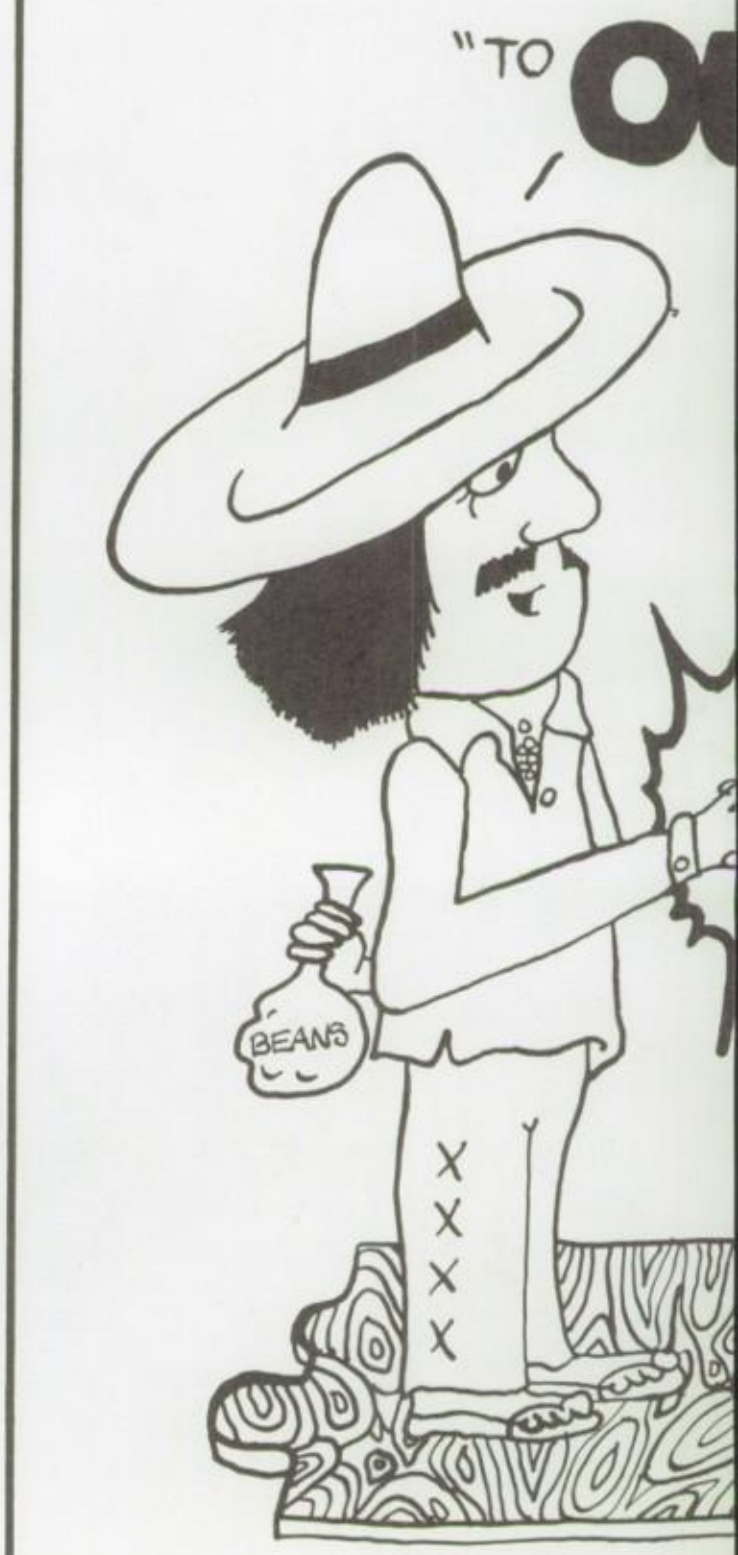
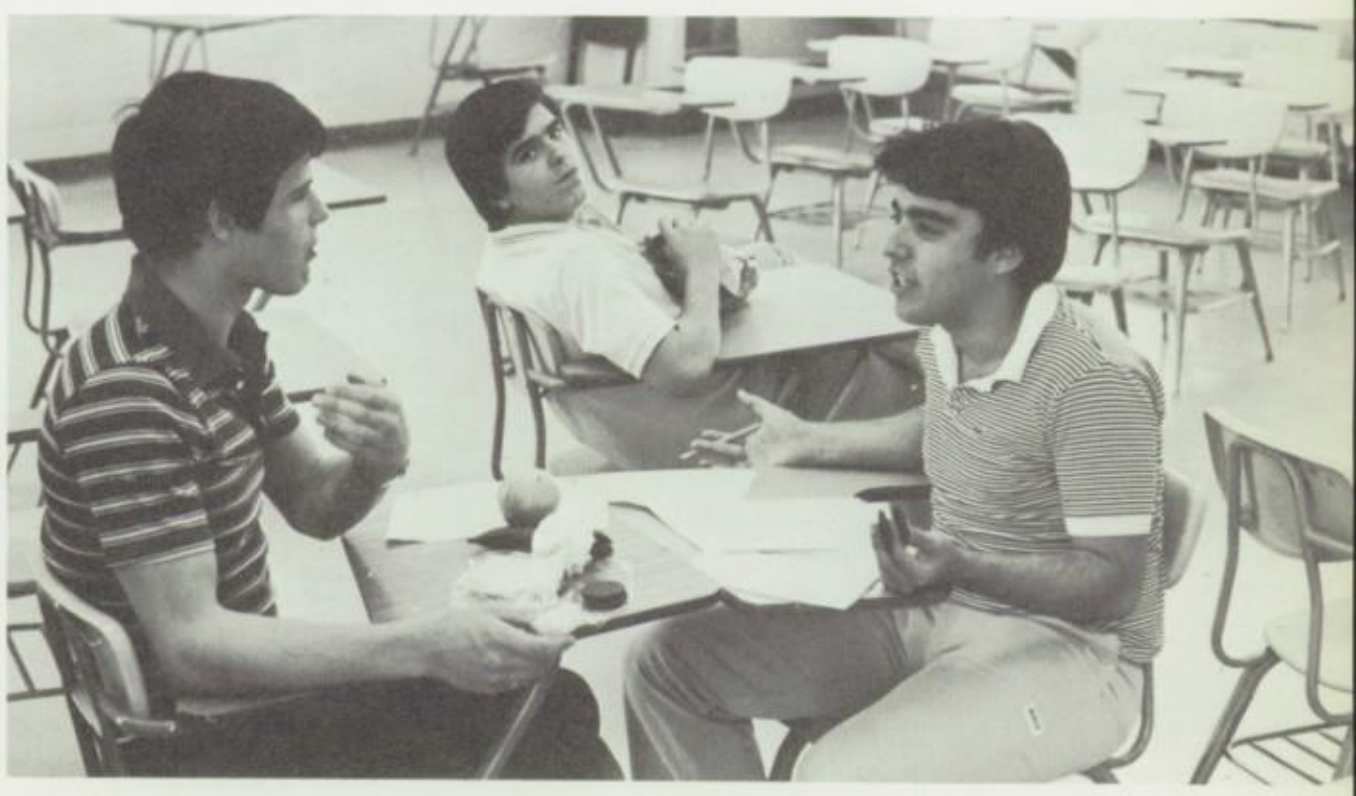
Our Spanish Club.

The Spanish Club has not been very visible on campus this year. A new approach to the club has been attempted. Evolving from the Latin American club, this year's model has tried to involve the interested members in the Hispanic culture. Such aspects of the cultures which have been focused upon include food, language, atmosphere and customs.

Most of the activities in which the group was involved took place off campus. These included a trip to a Mexican restaurant with the girl schools, a Hispanic "fiesta" with native foods and a Spanish play. Under the direction of Mr. Voorhees, Mr. Nunez, Mr. Rodriguez and Dr. Gelabert, the club has set the foundations for an improving organization and an increased awareness of the Hispanic culture.



Vive La France!



Nick and Chris preparing for French competition

Le Pauvre Homme!

The French club found itself on the go this year as many of its sponsored events were held off campus. In November, the group began the year with a field trip to a French bakery. They left amazed at what they had learned, and delighted with what they had sampled. At December's Annual Christmas Party, members again profited by a bit of French culture, as traditional French pastry was served. February saw some of the club members travel to Hollywood to participate in a foreign language competition, hopefully of repeating last year's first place performance. March brought more competition, this time on a national level. With the year drawing to a close, the French Department's Awards Banquet saw many new members enrolled in the French Honor Society, while those students who had retained a straight A average, received an award.

This year's Alvernian staff decided to give the various parishes in the area an opportunity to formally congratulate graduating Seniors from the respective communities. We feel this is an excellent way of making a lasting memorium to the class of '81. We hope this show of affection by the various parishes will be appreciated by the graduates, and join in along with the parishes in saluting these graduates.

Oh wow! the goalie stopped another kick

In its second year, soccer is still the newest sport to the St. Francis athletic program. The overwhelming demand for the sport, which has carried on from last year, has made soccer as exciting to watch as it is to play.

Under the guidance of Arthur Francis, new to the program this year, the soccer program has begun the slow climb to the top. Mr. Francis, a pro soccer player since he was 13 years of age, had coached AYSO soccer before joining the S.F. staff.

The varsity and junior varsity did not find all the success they had hoped for this year. Yet the players are looking forward to future years (and to the growth of their individual and team skills.) Playing highly ranked teams this year has given them excellent competition and goals to attain. Their hard work and dedication upon the field has paved the way for future teams which should build the next teams to the high standard of quality for which the Golden Knights are famous.

Golden Knights Varsity Basketball Shoots High in 1980-81

Rob Burns lays it in for an easy two points

Kelly Johnson takes off, leaving defenders behind

Although dormant for the past five years, the Golden Knight basketball program finally came to life this year, once again proving exciting to watch. Much of the Knight's success is attributed to the excellent coaching of Neville Saner. Transferring to S.F. from Alemany this year, Mr. Saner took up the tough job of turning around the B-Ball program which has been having problems the past few years. Having a life long love and involvement in basketball, Mr. Saner brought his patience, ambition and experience to Saint Francis and proved to exceed the expectations of many in his first year's accomplishments.

Although not extremely successful in pre-league, the Knights had everything well organized with the first league game. Facing the formidable competition of the Del Rey League, the Golden Knights emerged with a 4-4 record and a third place standing in league. The Knights dropped 2 games to Notre Dame, one by two points in over time, and Crespi, while they defeated Loyola and St. John Bosco each twice.

The Knight veterans Ernie Sacco, Steve McLain, Frank Sepulveda, Ruben Cuellar and John Costello, combined with Kelly Johnson and Rob Burns, who both missed last season, and Juniors Hayden Eaves and Kevin Taylor to make a well rounded team both offensively and defensively. The scoring and rebounding of Kelly Johnson, Rueben Cuellar and Rob Burns along with the quickness of Ernie Sacco and Kevin Taylor proved an asset to the Knights. The consistency of Hadyen Eaves, John Costello, Steve McLain and Frank Sepulveda provided strength off the bench.

After a lot of hard work and determination, the Knights were rewarded by finishing third in the Del Rey League. Finishing third qualified the Knights for the playoffs, the first time in six years.

Golden Knight Cagers Make C.I.F. Playoffs

Kevin Taylor lofts in a bank slot

For the first time since 1975, the Golden Knights Basketball team has advanced into the C.I.F. 4-A playoffs. The Knights clinched their playoff spot on a last second free throw by Rob Burns which gave the Knights a 61-60 victory over the Saint John Bosco Braves. This victory enabled the Knights to capture third place in the Del Rey League.

Much of the Knights' success is attributed to first year head-man Neville Saner. At the beginning of the season, Saner and the Knights set a goal of reaching the C.I.F. playoffs. Though few people on campus believed this goal would be reached, the hard work and dedication of the Knight mentor and players turned campus opinion around.

In the first round of the playoffs the Knights will face highly regarded Serra High School. Regardless of the outcome, the Golden Knights have gained the respect and admiration of the faculty and students of Saint Francis. Though many thought the Knights would begin a slow turn around this year, their success has surpassed the expectations of many, and brought back the tradition of excellence in basketball.

C.S.F. Tries New Approach to Club

C.S.F. President, John Costello

In an attempt to bring renewal to a dormant organization, the officers of Saint Francis' chapter of the California Scholarship Federation worked to give the club a status and recognizable identity on campus. Due to the efforts of officers, John Costello, President, Peter Pancione, Vice-President, Jeff Dbrowlski, Secretary, and Vincent Barbato, Treasurer, a theme centering on the Los Angeles Bicentennial was selected and developed. The theme focused specifically on the cultural aspects of our city, with field trips to concerts, and to "Evita" at the Schubert Theater. The Annual C.S.F. Disneyland Night provided a more relaxed social event for the members.

The Federation, open to all Sophomore, Juniors and Seniors, who have maintained approximately a 3.5 grade point average, also awarded scholastic honors to many of its senior members this year. Fifteen members received C.S.F. sealbearer status at the conclusion of the fall semester. Approximately twenty members received Sealbearer certificates by graduation.

Pep Band tries to perform in disguise.

Over the years, there have been various pep bands at Saint Francis, but the 1981 "AWESOME" Saint Francis Pep Band is one which has truly made a name for itself and will always be remembered. The band contributed a great deal of enthusiasm and spirit throughout the basketball season. Its repetoire included such hits as "When the Knights Go Marching In", "Bill Bailey", "Theme from the Muppet Show", "Sweet Georgia Brown", "Bud" and hundreds more!

Members of the group included, Mike Whitehead on tuba, Tom Resendez on drums, Jeff Prata on trumpet, "Fast Arty" on the tambourine and Pete Pancione on the bass drum. The founders and leaders of the band were John McGoldrick, trumpet, and Andy LaPointe, clarinet. A special thanks goes to Mr. Sorensen for his help in supporting the Pep Band.

Our Book

To the uninformed student, the dedication of a yearbook staff is never fully realized until he assumes a yearbook staff position. Obviously, no staff accomplishes the ideal of satisfying all members of the student body. That does not mean that an attempt was not made. This year's Alvernian staff has focused on the reality-student life-perhaps with a bit of humor. Why? So, when years fly by, we will hopefully recall this year at our alma mater as having been an enjoyable one. Obviously, for us, this is our final year.

This book, then, remains our statement which speaks with no apology.

Saint Francis Honors Its Scholars

Ean Moran

Spring Banquet is enjoyed by everyone that attended.

To honor students for merit in all pursuits has always been inseparable from the philosophy at Saint Francis. This year's Annual Scholastic Awards Night refocused attention on what many Saint Francis scholars had accomplished since September.

Held on February twenty-fourth, the evening program began with a buffet dinner, organized by the Mother's Guild. Afterwards, Dr. Robert McLaren, Professor of Human Development, at California State University, Fullerton, addressed the assembly. His remarks reflected a need to reevaluate the goals of education and of the educated man in today's world.

Almost forty percent of the entire student body earned academic honors; a fact emphasized by Dean Moran, Honor Roll and C.S.F. certificates were awarded. The announcement that eighteen sophomores had been selected into the National Honor Society was also made. Fr. Joseph spoke briefly and emphasized that the academic heritage at Saint Francis had been admirably maintained, for forty-six seniors had received letters of acceptance from universities, before seventh semester grades. A new tradition, developed during the school year, finally became a reality that evening. Four scholarships, one for each grade level, were awarded to deserving recipients. These new scholarships, funded through the generosity of several benefactors, were given in memory of former Saint Francis students. The evening program concluded with the awarding of the Hall of Fame plaques.

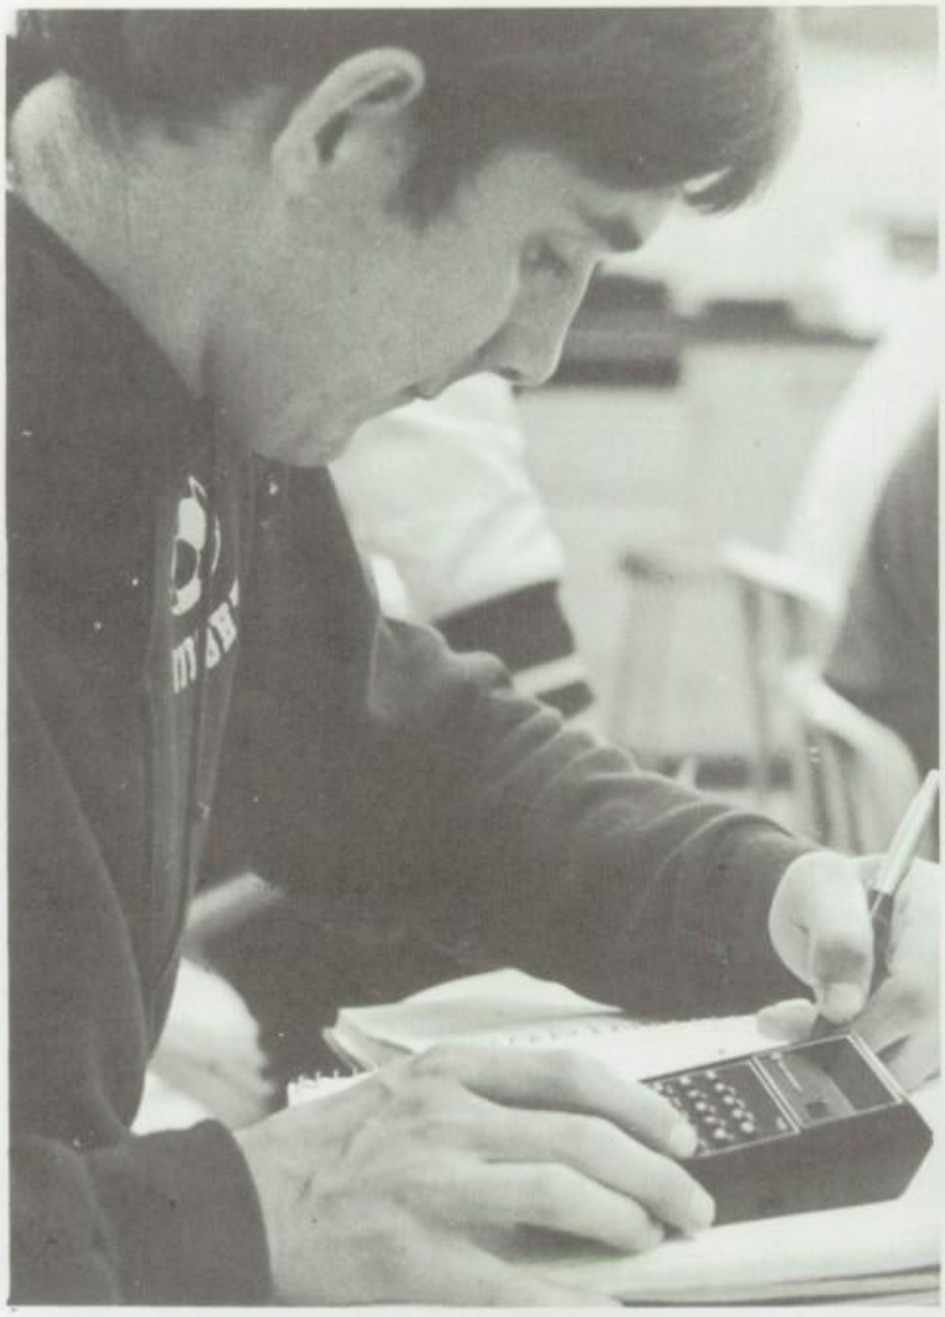
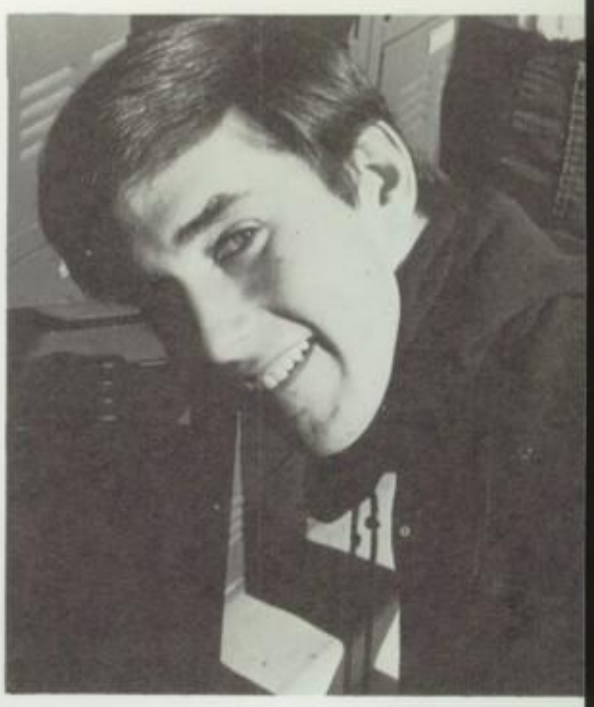
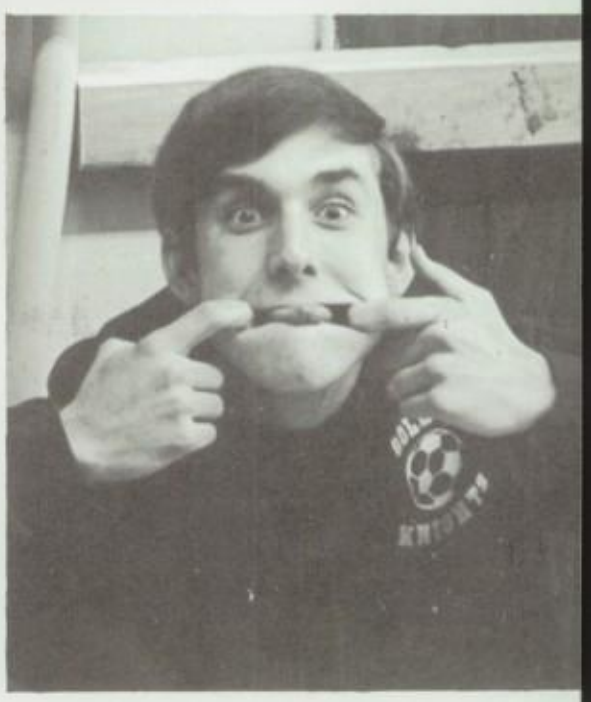
Serving as this year's editor of the Knight Breeze, veteran of Saint Francis' Varsity Soccer team, former secretary of the National Honor Society, and a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program, Eric Dalgarn, the Valedictorian of the class of nineteen eighty-one, genuinely merits this honored distinction.

It remains to Eric's credit that he has shown so many abilities and has such varied interests.







Maintaining a perfect 4.0 garde point average for three years, this year's salutatorian is David Alazard. A member of NHS and a CSF sealbearer, David has shown his involvement in school activities as well as sports.

In recognition of this outstanding achievement, we salute David Alazard, Salutatorian 1981.

Keenan Stanley

The 1981 Alvernian Sportsman of the Year is dual sportsman Keenan Stanley. Keenan has earned four varsity letters, two each in football and baseball. Keenan was a second team All-Del Rey League choice for baseball at third base as a Junior. During his senior year, he was All-League at both cornerback and receiver for the first team Del Rey grid squad, voted Most Valuable Back in the Del Rey, and an All-CIF first team end. Keenan was expected to continue his success as a shortstop on the 1981 Golden Knight baseball team. For his diligent efforts and athletic ability, he was awarded an athletic scholarship to Cal Poly San Luis Obispo. Congratulations Keenan!

Over the past four years, the Seniors have made a giant step towards realizing their future goals and aspirations. There have been times, though, that these goals have been temporarily buried by the many hours of studying and seemingly endless streams of assignments. The tedium often becomes too great, and the school work begins to slip.

However, there are always those students who seem to fare better than others — the St. Francis Senior Scholar. Their involvement and dedication here and abroad often goes unnoticed. So, it is fitting that we honor these students for their academic endeavors, as well as their overall attitude towards St. Francis High School and what it can offer them in regards to the future. Their present accomplishments will most undoubtedly lead to the realization of their future hopes.

A Day in the Life . . .

I woke up, fell out of bed,
dragged a comb across my head.
Found my way downstairs and drank a cup,
And looking up, I noticed I was late.
Grabbed my coat and found my hat,
Made the bus in seconds flat.
Found my way upstairs and had a smoke,
Somebody spoke and I went into a dream . . .

Senioritis: The Reality

The attitude of a senior is a combination of changing emotions. It can change from day to day, or even hour to hour. From the extremes of tireless dedication to despair and apathy. This is more of an aspect of being a senior than is the stereotyped leader-scholar image. A descriptive term for this exhaustion phenomenon experienced by seniors is SENIORITIS.

The list that follows can be used by anyone to diagnose this very real psychological disease which can strike down even the most promising young scholar.

SYMPTOMS OF SENIORITIS

1. Sleeping In Class
2. Not Doing Homework Or Assignments
3. Apathy
4. Lack Of Initiative
5. Absent Often
6. Defying Authority

The 81 Days of Captivity

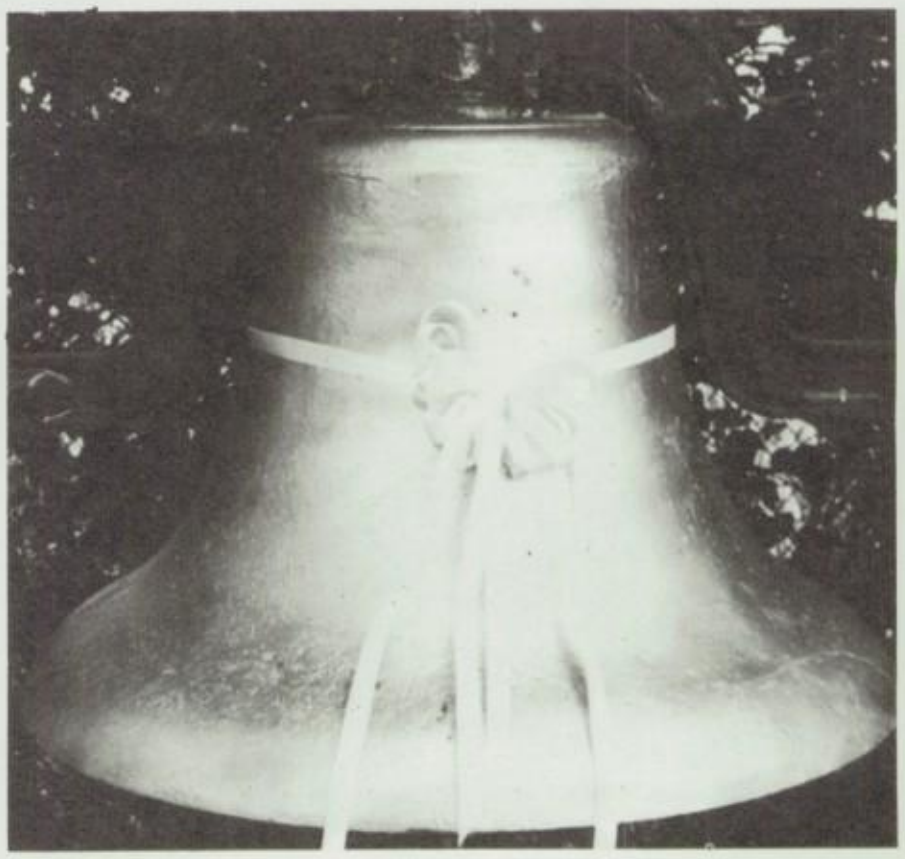
La Canada (KB) — On November 26, 1980 one hundred and twenty-two Seniors vanished to the surprise of the Saint Francis Faculty. Upon further investigation, Detective Pete Brang found the missing Seniors hiding out in their doctors' offices. The only known people to have knowledge of the whereabouts of the 122 fugitives were the parents of the fugitives themselves, who disclosed their children's various locations to Det. Brang through written notes and messages.

Upon the return of the fugitive students on December 1, 1980, it was discovered that the beloved Senior privileges had been taken hostage by a hostile faculty. Shockwaves were sent through the class of '81 as student outcries of disbelief were heard. Yet it was true, the privileges were no longer present within the class.

Immediate action was called for, and Senior Class President Rob Wheeler began the long, involved mediation process. It was a disheartening procedure, as rays of hope for a speedy release were dashed time and time again. It seemed the privileges would never be returned.

But in late January, word of a breakthrough was spread on the lawn. Yes, it was true! A deal had been made by Wheeler, although the terms of this transaction remained disclosed. The privileges would finally be returned to their rightful owners.

Early in the second semester, after 81 days of captivity, the privileges were welcomed home to the lawn amid cries of ecstasy and a sea of yellow ribbons. Reports of mistreatment were circulated, although these could not be substantiated. In general, the privileges stated their relief and joy at once again being home.



Gone But Not Forgotten

This page is dedicated to the members of the Class of '81 who have been with us during our four years at St. Francis, and who we feel are a part of us, but who will not be with us at our graduation . . .

ART
THIS YEAR WAS ALRIGHT, BUT I WOULD NOT GIVE UP SUMMER TO CONTINUE IT. I REALLY CAN'T BELIEVE OUR SENIOR YEAR IS [redacted] UPON US. WHERE THE HELL DID THE LAST THREE YEARS GO? OH WELL, I GUESS WE MUST LEARN TO GROW WITH PAST AND BUD INTO THE FUTURE. EXCELENCE A LOT, ALL YOU CAN. KEEP THE FAITH AND A[redacted] OPEN MIND
P.S. HAVE A BLAST THIS SUMMER!
PEACE

Every Senior learns at some time that change is a major factor in the composition of life. Whether it is in his attitudes or the attitudes of his peers, change is present. This is why we chose change as our theme.

Our class' history has been one of transitions. Many of our original classmates have left and many of our teachers are no longer present on campus. These events have set the stage for our book.

Creating a yearbook is by no means an easy task. During this annual's production we have striven to make the best yearbook that we possibly could. It has been difficult with a small staff, a small minority of students who truly care about the yearbook, and a limited amount of funds with which to work. We make no apologies for any shortcomings this book may have, since a yearbook can only reflect the students and faculty of Saint Francis. For better or worse, this is the fruit of our efforts.

ART,

I CAN'T POSSIBLY SEE WHY I'M WRITING IN THIS BOOK. IT IS SO DEGRADING I CAN'T STAND IT. YOU AND YOUR SAD-MARINO PEOPLE ARE OK. SOMEDAY YOU WILL EARN YOUR WAY UP TO MY LEVEL. (THIS IS ALL STUPID) YOU'RE A GOOD GUY, AND STAY THAT WAY!

LUV YA,
BEA

ART, (MAND)

HAVE A GOOD SUMMER AND STAY GOOD TO KITTY ("HAWK"). TELL HER "HIGH" FOR ME SOMETIME IF YOU HAVE NOTHING ELSE TO TALK ABOUT. CALL ME OVER THE SUMMER SOMETIME SO WE CAN GET TOGETHER AND "JAM". TEACH ME SOME SONGS. ANYWAY, YOUR A COOL, COOL SUPER COOL, ULTRA COOL, FAR OUT COOL, PERSON (DID I MENTION YOU WERE "COOL!") STAY THAT WAY. SO, LIKE, HEY MAN, STAY HIP, AND LOOSE OVER THE SUMMER. CATCH YOU ON THE REBOUND. LATER & GREATER BOSS MAN. I'LL CALL YOU ABOUT IN YOUNG CONCERT.

GOOD LUCK WITH BLOW CHEMISTRY.

JOHN

ART, Good luck in the coming year. Keep your eyes open so that you can see what's going on around you. Question from an inquisitive mind are great but also its important to learn to think for yourself. Sincerely, Mr. Mallet

Merci Hey Art - See you next year (Hopefully?). Hang loose on J. Boldt. (OH YEAH) for Mallet. Good luck with next year, try to score next year we'll have better ART, THIS YEAR HAS BEEN AKKIGHT, MAYBE

ART

Gym running is good, but keep it up moving electric guitar, it makes a great difference. just look what it's done for jane and the ladies. Maybe some citizens outdoorsea will be on influence. Onward looking forward to next year and hopefully

Tony Hien (Scuba Diver)

ARTHUR

HEY WHAT'S HAPPENIN' YOUR SINGING IS PRETTY GOOD. HAVE A COOL SUMMER AND REMENBER TO LISTEN TO KGFJ ON 1230 A.M. RADIO. SEE IN BASKET BALL SEASON. STAY COOL O.K.

KENNY JOHNSON

art,

Have a great summer but stay away from those San Marino people. Looking foward to the magic year where we will see the end of our stay at this school. Congrats on a great year of yell leading. Take it easy and will see you next year.

Brad Dawn

ART,

IT'S BEEN A COOL SHORT YEAR. ENJOYED YOUR CREATIVENESS! HOPE YOUR GET YOUR CONTRACT FROM MCA RECORDS. WATCH OUT FOR THE BULLFROG BLUES OVER THE SUMMER. REMEMBER K-A-R-T ROCKING N' ROLLIN SOFTLY, (C'EST TRISTE D'OUBLIER UN AMi)

Chris Johnson

Art guy,

Too bad I did nt have you in any classes but seeing you around campus was bad enough. It's kick back time so take it easy and I hope you don't get Fr. Joe for any classes. See you around,

A Nice Guy,
David Bond

Art,

Been a nice short year and hopefully next year will be twice as short. Stay cool

Gary Schaaf

Art, (alias N. Young)
I thought your songs were great. It's been a good year except the school sucks w/ such things as earrings. Have a great summer. See you around.

R. Manning

ART,
IT'S BEEN PRETTY COOL THIS YEAR ALTHOUGH SENIOR ETHICS IS A DRAG (you'll see) BEING A YELLLEADER WAS COOL TOO @ HOPE YOU HAVE AN AWESOME SUMMER. And Keep in touch. Hope you make it next year. Later on Good Luck next year

Nick Romlin

artie pooh,
have a good summer. thanks for being there to talk too. See you at the wedding
Pat

ART,

Hey ya God Damn moron. what the hell is going on. Write soon more bluegrass play more & school. Bullfrog Blues was really good. Don't stay sober too long or this guy will drive you crazy. Give me a call when you get back from Steve Party Stay Strong.
